No Fair Trial, Rules Violated, President Says

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Police Federal Association, the Policemen's Union, today sharply criticized the dismissal of 19 police officers without a hearing by the police commission.

Dismissal of the 19 officers and demotion of seven others came after secret discussion by the commission following the tabling of Lt.-Col. Cecil H. Hill's report on his investigations of the police set-up in Vancouver.

The Police Union charged that Col. Hill's secret investigations and the method of dismissal violated the rules and regulations of the Police Blue Book, which outlines methods of procedure.

Fred Dougherty, president of the association, said:

"We don't want special consideration. All we want is British justice, that requires that every man be given a fair trial. This has not been done in this case.

The Police Federal Association met the Police Commission at noon today. Constable Dougherty made the request that members of the press be allowed to remain during proceedings, but his request was refused by Mayor G. G. McGeer, commission chairman.

English, Scottish Soccer Cup Quarter-Finals Played

LONDON (CP)—Charlton Athletic, Liverpool and Newcastle United won their way into the Football Association Cup semi-finals today, while Middlesbrough and Burnley fought to a 1-1 draw in their sixth-round cup tie. More than 200,000 fans watched the four games.

Charlton, runners-up last year, eliminated Preston North End 2 to 1 at home with a disputed goal in the 56th minute. Preston claimed an offside on the score after a goal-mouth scramble. Halftime score was 1 to 1.

After leading 1 to 0 at the half, Liverpool delighted their home fans with three second-half goals to run out easy 4 to 1 winners over Birmingham City.

Newcastle United was the only sixth round away winners carrying a 2 to 0 victory back from its visit to Sheffield United. Both goals came in the first half.

Burnley trailed Middlesbrough at the latter's grounds 1 to 0 at halftime but rallied to knot the score in the closing stages. The match will be replayed at Burnley next Tuesday.

Weather again cut a wide swath through the schedules of the English and Scottish Leagues, forcing postponement of 14 English games and wiping out all eight games scheduled for the Scottish League. Many major pools were once more canceled.

In the English First Division Wolverhampton Wanderers solidified the position at the head of the table with 3 to 0 victory over Stoke to go a full two games ahead of Middlesbrough. Blackpool, in third place, were unable to vault Middlesbrough when Bolton Wanderers defeated them 1 to 0. At the other end of the table, Leeds United wallowed further toward relegation, dropping a 1 to 0 decision to Blackburn Rovers.

In the Second Division Manchester City picked up a point by drawing with Fulham 2 to 2 and lengthened their lead over Burnley to two points. Sheffield Wednesday rubbed Tottenham Hotspurs 5 to 1 to go a point ahead of idle Millwall and escape relegation danger for the moment.

Cardiff City, Third Division Southern leaders, whipped Southend United 3 to 1 and Queen's Park Rangers, runners-up, edged Norwich City 1 to 0.

In the northern half of the Third Division the leaders, Doncaster Rovers, beat Tranmere Rovers 5 to 3.

In the Scottish League cup quarter-finals Airdrieonians and Hibernian drew 4 to 4. Aberdeen and East Fife edged Dundee and Heart of Midlothian respectively by scores of 1 to 0 and Dundee United bowed 2 to 1 to Glasgow Rangers.

Police Hold 4 In Ontario After Theft Of Narcotics

WHITBY, Ont. (CP)—A fourth man was in custody today in connection with the theft of drugs from the Ontario Mental Hospital here Friday and police were continuing their search for a fifth man believed implicated, they announced today.

Cecil Dean of Oshawa, for whom police searched Friday after arresting three others believed connected with the removal from the hospital infirmary's dispensary of drugs worth $40,000 on the narcotic black market, was lodged in the Ontario County Jail at Whitby Friday night after being arrested in a Whitby hotel room.

There he joined Elgin Richards and Michael Pudvinsky of Whitby and Donald Tucker of Oshawa, all charged with armed robbery and due to appear in court next Tuesday. Police said Dean would be similarly charged later today.

From the floorboards of a car stolen from Oshawa and used in the hold-up get-away police have taken some drugs, but the bulk of the haul remains untraced. It is believed the jailed youths—including Richards, whose favorite trick is uncapping beer bottles with his teeth—were stooges of a Toronto drug ring.

Mediators Seek To Avert Strike On Sound Ferries

SEATTLE (AP) — Federal mediators today attempted to avert a strike set for March 14 at a meeting of C.I.O. marine engineers employed on the Puget Sound Navigation Company's ferries. Ferry service was on normal schedule after Friday afternoon's six-hour work stoppage by the engineers, deadlocked with the "Black Ball Line" officials on a new working agreement.

Harry H. Lewis, conciliation commissioner, called a meeting this afternoon of the engineers' spokesmen and Capt. A. M. Peabody, line president.

Meanwhile a tentative agreement between the Seattle Transit Commission and the A.F.L. street railway employees union was announced by Lewis and conciliator William G. Hosie last midnight. The working agreement is subject to approval of the union membership next Thursday night. The agreement was reached after a 12-hour negotiation session, just as the old contract expired. Its terms were not divulged.

Victoria's chief interest in the Black Ball Line services is in the Seattle-Victoria link, on which schedule the Ss. Iroquois arrives each day 8.45 a.m. and departs at 12.35 p.m.

Anglo-French Treaty Wide In Scope; To Check Threats

LONDON (Reuter) — The Anglo-French Alliance which will be signed at Dunkerque Tuesday meets the French desire for a guarantee of mutual aid not only in the case of actual armed attack by Germany but also in the case of a threat of renewed aggression, short of an actual attack, it was stated in official quarters here today.

Although the text of the treaty will not be published until it is laid before Parliament, it is learned that the following are the main points of the treaty:

1. It provides that either of the two parties shall come to the assistance of the other in the event of armed attack by Germany.

2. It contains arrangements designed for the event of any threat to the security of either party resulting from the adoption by Germany of a policy of aggression.

3. It is drafted with a view to the possibility that there will be concluded a four-power agreement for securing the disarmament of Germany on the broad lines envisaged by the former United States Secretary of State, James F. Byrnes, and welcomed by Britain.

(The United States proposal for a four-power agreement is on the agenda for the Moscow Conference.)

4. The treaty makes specific reference in its preamble to the Anglo-Soviet and Franco-Soviet Alliances. It is also stated that it is carefully drafted so as to fit in with the charter of the United Nations.

5. It provides that neither party shall conclude any alliance hostile to, or aimed at, the other party.

6. It contains a provision to meet the eventuality of any failure by Germany to carry out any obligation imposed on her.

7. It provides in general terms for economic collaboration between Britain and France.

8. The treaty is for a duration of 50 years.

Strachey Speech On Wheat Pact Touches Off Debate In House

OTTAWA (CP)—Food Minister Strachey of Britain was criticized in the Commons Friday by Donald M. Fleming, P.C., Toronto-Eglington, for having referred in a recent Winnipeg speech to the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement while it was under discussion in the Canadian Commons during the last week.

Mr. Fleming raised his criticism after M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, had quoted from a newspaper story which quoted Mr. Strachey as saying that it was "an utterly unwarranted and monstrous suggestion" that any British Government would refuse to pay the floor price under the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement should the world price fall heavily.

Under the four-year agreement Britain undertook to buy 600,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat. The price for the first two years was fixed at $1.50 a bushel. For the third year the price would be not less than that and for the fourth year not less than $1. The actual price for the last two years would be subject to negotiation.

Progressive Conservative members have argued that if the bottoms falls out of the wheat market before the contract is concluded in 1950, Canada could not logically ask Britain to pay higher than the world price even though she had been sold wheat below the world price in the first two years of the contract.

Mr. Coldwell, quoting from Mr. Strachey's Winnipeg speech, said the British Government had agreed to live up to the terms of the contract. He set off an exchange with John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, by intimating the official opposition party had had a change of views since 1945.

Mr. Fleming did not refer to the interchange between the two leaders, but said he wished to comment on the fact that Mr. Coldwell had referred to a statement "issued by a British Minister of the Crown, made in Canada within the last 48 hours and concerning a matter which throughout this entire week has been under debate in the Canadian House of Commons."

He expressed the hope that if a Canadian minister had been in Mr. Strachey's position he would have refrained from making any comment.

Daffodil Growers Look For Record Year In Shipping

Vancouver Island bulb growers are optimistic about this year's daffodil crop, which should be at its best by Easter.

Warm sunshine of the last week has brought the flowers along, and soon the fields of Gordon Head and other districts of Saanich Peninsula will be masses of golden blooms.

At the Wooldridge Bulb Farm, Brentwood, which has one of the island's biggest daffodil crops, shipping of the flowers is expected to start in the next two weeks.

Like other flower farms of Saanich, the Wooldridge farm each year sends thousands of blossoms to all the major Canadian centres as far east as Winnipeg. Last year the Brentwood farm shipped two carloads. In each car were 120,000 individual blooms. This year these growers hope to exceed this figure.

"The demand is better than ever," they reported.

The cold winter was welcomed by most of the growers who pointed out the daffodils grow faster after being held back by the low temperatures.

Shipping of the daffodils will last until the latter part of May with the two busiest periods coming just before Easter and the second Sunday in May, Mother's Day.

Malayan Workers Fight 150 Police

SINGAPORE (Reuters)—Strong police reinforcements were standing by in Kedah, northern Malaya, today after a fight between 600 Indian rubber state workers and 150 policemen in which several on both sides were injured.

European women and children and estate managers were being evacuated Friday night from Kedah estates, where laborers were reported in control of several places.

Eleven alleged ringleaders were arrested.

The riot was in the village of Bedong, in the central estate area. It apparently originated from a quarrel in a "toddy" shop, but followed long-standing unrest on the estates and a spate of strikes. (Toddy is an alcoholic drink distilled from coconut palms.)

Gallup Poll

Standing Of Political Parties In Canada Unchanged In 5 Months

By Canadian Institute of Public Opinion

Federal political party manoeuvres in recent months may have aroused unusual election speculation, but as yet, the national pattern of popular party support has experienced no notable shift.

While the general national standing of the various parties remains virtually static, the latest Gallup political survey has uncovered evidence of strengthening Social Credit and C.C.F. trends within certain areas.

Voters' support of the respective federal political parties is measured periodically by the institute from response of an accurate sample of the electorate to the question:

"If a Dominion election were held today, would you vote for the candidate of the Liberal, Progressive Conservative, C.C.F., Bloc Populaire, Social Credit, Labor Progressive, or other party?"

The latest Gallup Poll results on federal party standing compares as follows with previous polls and the actual results of the 1940 and 1945 elections:

	Lib. %	Prog-Cons. %	C.C.F. %	Soc. Cred. %	Others %
1940 election	55	31	8	3	3
Jan. 1942	55	30	10	2	3
Sept. 1942	39	23	21	4	13
Feb. 1943	32	27	23	5	13
Sept. 1943	28	28	29	3	12
Jan. 1944	30	29	24	3	14
Sept. 1944	36	27	24	4	9
Jan. 1945	36	28	22	4	10
April 1945	36	29	20	4	11
Election Forecast (June 9, 1945)	39	29	17	4	11
Election (June 11, 1945)	41	29	15	4	11
Nov. 1945	44	26	17	4	9
Jan. 1946	45	24	16	5	10
May 1946	44	26	16	4	10
Sept. 1946	41	27	17	5	10
Dec. 1946	41	26	18	6	9
Today	41	27	18	7	7

The latest averages reveal no notable changes since September in popular support of the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives.

This poll did find regional variations in the popularity of the Social Credit and the C.C.F. parties.

Social Credit's 1 percentage point gain since December would not be significant in itself, but it establishes the consistent evidence from earlier polls of a strengthening trend, netting 3 percentage points since May, 1946.

Of even greater interest is the fact that most of the recent rise in Social Credit support has come from Quebec electors.

The C.C.F.'s national average is unchanged since December, but the pattern of C.C.F. support took a slight shift in the latest poll. The C.C.F. position is gaining volume and stability in the western provinces, although increased preference in those areas is balanced out by scattered minor losses of supporters in the east.

Other parties net reduced averages in this poll. Bloc Populaire lost one point and stands at 4 per cent. The Labor Progressive and Independents combined hold 3 per cent, one point below the December level.

Because of the interest in the status of the Social Credit party, its popular support is shown separately in the above table for the first time.

Printing Expert To Speak Here

Lee Augustine, vice-president of the Printing Machinery Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, will address members of the printing craft of Victoria at the Empress Hotel, Monday at 8.

A nationally-known authority on lock-up and make-ready, especially plate mounting and registering, Mr. Augustine will speak on "Metal Mounting and Registering Systems."

Mr. Augustine, in 1938, was appointed by international president John M. Callahan as a member of the research commission. Starting his career at an early age, Mr. Augustine has made a vast study and experiment in the "graphic arts field, supplementing his background 'with a personal library consisting of over 400 volumes, including many collector's items. This fund of information combined with an alertness to all developments in his chosen field has brought invitations to speak at gatherings of printers all over the United States and Canada. His desire to use his knowledge for the benefit of the industry rather than personal gain is evidenced by the time and effort he has given to the International Association of Printing House Craftsmen through its local, district and international bodies.

Washington Plans Grain Trade Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Agriculture Department has ordered a study made of the recent heavy volume of trading in wheat futures contracts on the Chicago Board of Trade.

That trading has been accompanied by rather sharp price increases.

The department's commodity exchange authority Friday called on futures commission merchants for reports covering accounts of all traders having open accounts in wheat futures as of the close of business, Feb. 28. Officials said the department was particularly interested in growing activity in May wheat futures and in their hoarders.

Protect Your Child Against Whooping Cough

★ World-wide in its distribution, whooping cough is endemic in lare cities, becoming epidemic on a large scale every two to four years. The seriousness of pertussis, especially in young children, is evidenced by the mortality rate—about 26 per cent in infants less than one year old.

Children should be vaccinated during the first year of life. Do not wait for an epidemic. It takes several weeks after vaccination for the body to produce antibodies. Ask your physician now about protection from whooping cough for your baby.

We carry fresh stocks of vaccine under refrigeration at all times.

Congress Asks Details Of Plan For U.S. To Take Over In Greece

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress members of both parties called today for a blueprint of the obligations involved before deciding whether the United States should take over British commitments in Greece.

Legislators who talked it over with President Truman and State Secretary Marshall at a Thursday White House conference remained uniformly silent but other members said they want to know what the move will mean in terms of money and foreign policy.

Several said the issue is whether the United States intends to plunge further into Europe's turbulent political conflict between Communism and other forms of government.

President Truman pointed up the American desire for stability abroad Friday night with a declaration that "it is essential to economic and political reconstruction overseas that a new food crisis be averted."

He said that "if the United States continues the present rate of shipments it will meet by the end of April an export quota of 400,000,000 bushels of grain and flour originally set for the end of June. Mr. Truman added: "We must go beyond our program and continue to ship as much grain in May and June as we can in the interest of world stability and freedom." Coal shipments also must continue.

The future of the Greek government, as well as the present regime in Turkey, appeared at stake in reports that Britain had informed the United States she no longer can bear the financial burden of maintaining troops and relief organizations in Greece and aiding the Turks militarily.

Discusses Possille Union With Canada

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The National Convention Friday night voted 24-16 to send a delegation of six to Ottawa to "ascertain what fair and equitable basis may exist for a union of Newfoundland with Canada." The government was requested to determine whether Canada would receive such a delegation.

The motion, presented by J. R. Smallwood, convention member for Bonavista Centre was debated at length before the vote was taken. No indication was given of when the proposed discussion might take place.

Earlier Friday, the 45-member body discussing the colony's governmental future voted to send a similar delegation to London to discuss such matters as the island's national debt, the question of army, naval and air bases in Newfoundland, the status of the great airport at Gander and interest-free loans.

Board Orders General Boost In Beef Prices

OTTAWA (CP)—The Prices Board today announced increases in the ceiling prices of red, blue and commercial grades of beef which will become effective Monday, "to encourage a steady movement of cattle during the next few months, when marketings are usually light."

The increase will be two cents a pound at wholesale, carcass basis, and three cents a pound to the consumer on standard or primary retail cuts. The boosts apply to the three top qualities only, and prices on other qualities of beef will remain unchanged.

The amount of the increase allowed in the new schedule will permit cattle buyers to pay approximately 15 cents per pound for top quality cattle, basis the Toronto market.

Board officials said the action was found necessary when it became clear that cattle markets were following a price pattern similar to that experienced in the early spring of 1946, when prices for live cattle went out of line with the then existing wholesale ceilings on dressed beef.

SLOWDOWN WITNESSED

"That situation produced a great deal of confusion and dissatisfaction throughout the whole meat trade, and resulted in a slowdown in marketings and acute beef shortages in nearly all large centres of population," the board said.

The adjustments were made after consultation with various sections of the beef industry and the board's decision was made "with the best interest of both producer and consumer in mind."

Following are the actual ceiling increases at retail: Cubed sirloin tip; tenderloin—no advance in price. Sirloin butt; strip loin; brisket point rolled; rib roast rolled, seven bones; prime rib roast, five bones, rolled; rolled rib roast, inside, sixth and seventh bone—advance 4 cents per pound. On all other cuts the price will be 3 cents per pound.

Board officials emphasized the new price schedule represented the final adjustment in beef ceilings for the current season.

RUMOR ON BUTTER

There was no official comment today on a report Friday that an advance of up to 10 cents in the price of butter May 1 was regarded as a distinct possibility. The report said rumors were circulating that the government would discontinue part or all of its producers' subsidy scheduled to end April 30.

Victoria's part in the Scout and Guide Week program conducted throughout Canada during the last 14 days ended with 300 Scout and Guide leaders and members of group committees with husbands and wives attending the Victoria and District Boy Scouts Association annual dinner and dance in the Empress Hotel.

While officials today were unable to state accurat financial returns secured by the two-week program, designed to inform the public of the merits of the scouting movement on behalf of the younger generation, they were able to definitely state that a Victoria Scout will attend the world Scout Jamboree in France this year.

The big parley will be held in a town on the outskirts of Paris in August. Selection method to name local representative will be decided at a later date.

Hosts of the evening were H. B. Hunter, district Boy Scout Commissioner; Freeman King, field commissioner; Mrs. Freeman King, representing the Guides of Saanich Division, and Mrs. F. W. Midgeley, Guides' commissioner for Victoria.

All four municipalities were represented by Mayor Percy George for the city, Reeve Walter Walker for Oak Bay, Reeve E. C. Warren for Saanich, and Councillor J. A. Ellis for Esquimalt.

Among the guests were Lt.-Col. Robert Travis, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A.; Senator and Mrs. H. Barnard, Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons of the B.C. Police, Bishop H. E. Sexton, Rev. George Biddle and Charles Morrow, M.L.A.

Vancouver 'Wide Open', Says Police Commissioner, Firing 19 Officers

VANCOUVER (CP)—A drastic shake-up of the Vancouver police force stretching from the police chief to constables was completed here as the city moved to eradicate a "rampant and vicious underworld.

Police Chief A. G. McNeil and 18 policemen received official notification of dismissal Friday night, only a few hours after a report by Lt.-Col. C. H. Hill, newly-appointed Police Commissioner who has been inquiring into city vice conditions, had disclosed that vice in many forms had been operating "wide open" in Vancouver for the last 10 years.

Dismissal of the men for "inefficiency and negligence in performance of their duties" was recommended by Col. Hill, who said that vice conditions had grown "to such an uncontrolled situation" police have been openly defied.

LOSE NO TIME

The three-man police commission lost little time in adopting the far-reaching recommendations in the report. Unanimously the commission agreed to:

1. Dismiss former Chief Constable A. G. McNeil, Deputy Chief Norman Corbett, two inspectors and 15 detectives—all suspended from the force since Jan. 24 pending the outcome of the probe.

2. Reduce five detectives to the rank of first-class constables.

3. Confirm the appointment of Walter Mulligan, former head of the criminal investigation department named acting chief when McNeil was suspended.

5. Provide for an open public hearing by the board, understood to be scheduled for late today, at which dismissed and demoted officers would have an opportunity to appeal the findings.

The commission was also scheduled to meet late today with the Police Federal Union, which Friday threatened to make application for an arbitration board unless prompt action was taken to discuss the suspensions and demotions.

Immediately following the meeting of the commission Friday night, Police Chief Mulligan summoned the 19 men to his office. They appeared singly, headed by former Chief McNeil and received a brief, carefully worded notification of dismissal enclosed in small white envelopes bearing the stationery mark "Chief Constable's Office."

Only one of the former detectives accepted the new chief's offer to read the notice to him, with three others murmuring, "never mind, I know what's in it."

Following the quick interview with the new chief, several of the men, whose combined years in service approximated 450, bid farewell of former fellow officers and all had left headquarters within a half hour.

Release of the report pushed important world news off the front pages of the city's three newspapers.

Expressing surprise at the "astounding lack of law enforcement" during the past few years in the gambling, morality and liquor squads, the report told of attempts made to bribe police; that no efforts had been made to close 13 known bawdy houses "openly operated for the last four years," and that bookmaking, dice and card establishments had been running wide open.

Highlight of the Hill report was the statement that five officers, including former Chief McNeill, had admitted being offered bribes by Louis and Harry Tisman, alleged gambling operators, but that "no attempt whatever was made by these officers to secure evidence against Tisman by methods that are well-known in the most elementary of police practices."

15 Dead, 24 Missing After Bomb Blast In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM (AP)—A terrific explosion wrecked a British officers' club in the heart of modern Jerusalem today, and an official announcement said 15 persons were killed, 15 were injured and 24 were missing.

Three of the dead—two police and a civilian—were killed in bursts of gunfire between attackers and police.

While rescue parties clawed through blackened debris, police and helmeted troops searched the Jewish Agency building and Yeshuron Synagogue — both across the street from the club—for the perpetrators of the Sabbath blast.

The area was cordoned, and traffic throughout Jerusalem was at a standstill.

Eyewitnesses said a number of armed men surrounded the club, on fashionable King George Avenue, a few moments before the blast, and exchange gunfire with guards.

It was not clear immediately whether the bomb was carried into the building or hurled from a passing automobile.

One unofficial report said a group of men drove alongside the building under cover of the fire laid down by their companions, and threw explosives through a window into the hall.

Three attackers were believed to have been wounded and captured.

TRUCK NEAR BUILDING

A truck was found parked about 50 yards from the building, and officers said it might have been used by the attackers in hurling the bombs.

The death toll was greater than in any other one incident in the turbulent Holy Land since last July, when more than 60 persons were killed in the bomb explosion which wrecked the King David Hotel.

It was the first major act of violence on the Sabbath Day in recent Palestine history

A Jewish girl receptionist was among those killed.

Scores of hastily organized rescue workers brought out the bodies, and ambulances whizzed through the city. Twelve survivors were rushed to hospitals within 20 minutes after the blast.

Windows in the Jewish Agency building and for blocks around were broken by the blast, which occurred shortly after 3 p.m.

The officers' club was built 10 years ago, and was under lease to the British Army.

The club had living quarters for bachelors on three floors, with a bar, lounge and restaurant on the ground floor.

Police immediately launched searches in several all-Jewish quarters of the city. All cars were brought to a standstill and searched.

50 IN BUILDING

Twelve survivors were removed by ambulances within 20 minutes after the blast. An officer at the scene said he believed there were at least 30 officers and a staff of up to 20 in the building at the time of the explosion.

The Jerusalem blast came as nearly 1,400 uncertified Jewish immigrants waited off Haifa for a final court decision on their status, expected next Tuesday.

The immigrants had been taken from the refugee ship Haim Arlosoroff, which still lay aground off suburban Bat Galim, near Haifa. The passengers were taken Friday night aboard three British transporters—858 on the Ocean Vigor, 285 on the Empire Lifeguard, and 255 on the Empire Comfort. Twenty of the immigrants on the Ocean Vigor were stretcher cases.

If the ruling asked by the Jewish Community Council in Palestine's High Court goes against them they will be taken to detention camps on Cyprus aboard British troop transports to join thousands of other such refugees who sought to run the blockade.

NANKING (CP)—China's Supreme National Defence Council at an extraordinary meeting today named Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek as Premier to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. T. V. Soong.

Soong's resignation strengthened a general impression that even more fateful days are ahead for China.

Aid Given 6 Ships In Atlantic As Gale Sweeps North Of Azores

NEW YORK (AP)—Aid was being given to six ships in the storm-tossed Atlantic today, the U.S. Coast Guard said.

Gales which have harassed shipping for several days are reported still intense north of the Azores and moving east by northeast.

The disabled freighter Georgie is being towed to Bermuda by the tug Joseph H. Moran 2nd.

The U.S. Navy tug Hoist is expected to reach Bermuda today with the schooner Winifred Maris taken in tow southeast of the island.

Boy Mayor Advocates Compulsory Civic Vote

In a well-thought out and carefully prepared inaugural address "Mayor" Don Elliott, Victoria's High School mayor for a day, advocated this morning that compulsory municipal voting be instituted because "the voting in civic elections is disgraceful in Victoria."

His "City Council" of nine boys and one girl "aldermen" and an audience composed of city officials and members of the City Council listened attentively as he advocated Future Citizens' Day annually on a school day, preferably a Friday, and having the school board include it as part of the school curriculum.

This suggestion Mayor Percy George, who shared the dais with "Mayor" Elliott, warmly seconded and said he thought it would be better if the young people took a week or two intensive study with civic department heads and the aldermen to prepare for their meeting.

"Mayor" Elliott asked for enthusiastic and whole-hearted support of the proposed school building program.

Other matters touched on by him in his address were the need for harbor improvement, the construction of a canal between Portage Inlet and Esquimalt Harbor, the improvement of the Gorge as an outdoor swimming pool, the building of a civic recreation centre for young people, more parks and neighborhood playgrounds, removal of overhead telephone and electric light wires, inauguration of an adequate garbage disposal system to eliminate litter on the beaches, and improvement of Thetis Lake.

DON ELLIOTT
"Mayor" for a day.

He also asked his "council" to go on record as supporting the increase in old age pensions, stressing that the older citizens are still valuable members of society and should be adequately taken care of.

Councils in Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich also held meetings this morning in their municipal halls, and this afternoon all four joined together for a debate on the amalgamation question.

More Snow, Cold In Britain Add To Recovery Difficulties

LONDON (AP)—New falls of snow and returning cold weather threatened coal transport anew today on the heels of a government announcement that Britain's industrial "blackout" would end Monday, after three weeks of factory shutdowns which caused unemployment for millions.

Despite the ending of the drastic power embargo in half of England's factories, Prime Minister Attlee's office announced that the need to save coal at the power generators was "as urgent as ever" and the present five-hour-day electricity cuts in all British homes and offices would continue.

Electric power will be restored for all industry in London and in northeast and southwest England Monday, the government announcement said. In the Midlands factories reopened last Monday after a two-week shutdown.

New snow blanketed most of the island and weather forecasters sounded gale warnings for all the east coast as Britain's coldest February in 92 years ended. There were only 17 hours of sunlight in the whole month.

MR. CHURCHILL'S ALARM

MILLIONS OF HIS GENUINE FRIENDS around the world well remember how Mr. Churchill rallied the people of Britain for "their finest hour" nearly seven years ago. These are the same millions who may be regretting that their idol of those days is not bringing his great talents to bear on the perplexities which are now seriously plaguing his compatriots. It is right and proper, of course, that in his role as leader of His Majesty's loyal opposition he should be critical of the government headed by his former ministerial colleague—when he considers the occasion justly demands. It is not within our province to suggest that a former Prime Minister of a nation sorely tried on almost every score should limit the scope of his objections to specific policies of an administration whose basic philosophy is anathema to him. This is not the business of Canada or of Canadians. Mr. Churchill is quite capable of taking care of himself in the realm of parliamentary thrust and parry without tutelage from the outside. But the interests of this Dominion—likewise those of the other self-governing states of the British Commonwealth—are more or less directly linked with the eventual relationship between the United Kingdom and the rest of the world.

These obvious facts should be borne in mind, therefore, when Mr. Churchill says, as he did yesterday, that it is time for business men and industrialists in Britain to do all they can to bring the Labor government "to a speedy end." The wartime Prime Minister was thinking of the Empire which, he argued, "is being cast away," and pursued his theme by telling the political council of the Constitutional Club that "too long has there been general apathy among business men about politics; they must do their duty without delay or face a situation even more serious than the present."

Those are grave words. They constitute a challenge to the men of business in Britain who are less concerned with the emotional appeal than they are about the economic machinery by which commodities they produce are to be sold in a world market. The accusation that business men and industrialists are too apathetic toward the science of politics or the requirements of government may be based on sound premises. Is it not a fact, however, that the hard-headed and unemotional British trader is more interested in the business he can do and make profits in the doing of it—with all nations—than he is in devising ways and means by which the inevitable economic trends of modern times might be blocked or circumvented to satisfy the demands of a party philosophy which belongs to another day and generation?

When he said he had not become the King's first minister to preside over the liquidation of the British Empire Mr. Churchill was playing with words which, though genuinely approved and generally applauded in all the countries that comprise the Commonwealth, he must have known could do little to stem the tides that a world convulsion had set in motion. And his injunction to business men and industrialists to bestir themselves to prevent the Empire from being "cast away" will probably create considerable debate. This brilliant historian-statesman evidently has forgotten the declaration of faith to which he gave voice in the old Free Trade Hall in Manchester in 1903—when he desired so fervently to shed his Tory mantle and do battle with the Liberals against the selfish political interests which had rallied behind the tariff reform policy of Joseph Chamberlain. Does he still think of "the Tory Party" as the party of "the vested interests—corruption at home, aggression to cover it up abroad, the trickery of tariff jugglery . . . sentiment by the bucketful, patriotism by the imperial pint," and so on?

Much water has flowed down the Thames since Mr. Churchill uttered those words. And how different they sound when compared with those he voiced yesterday! The question which all the world would like answered, therefore, is whether, if he could have his way, he would replace the present administration at Westminster with a government composed of business men and industrialists—and whether he would advocate fighting to keep India, Burma, Palestine and Egypt within the Empire by force of arms. An affirmative reply would herald danger to the peaceful progress of mankind.

MAKE-BELIEVE OR GENUINE?

AS THIS PAPER WENT TO PRESS TODAY youths of Victoria and the surrounding municipalities were discussing amalgamation as part of their "Future Citizens' Day." It is encouraging to note the interest manifest in this subject by the young men chosen to represent the different districts of the larger community. It is to be hoped that interest will be reflected in the homes from which they come, and that unification of the different entities of Greater Victoria will not have to await the attainment of their majority before it becomes an accomplished fact.

The educational values of such events as that held in the City Council chamber today have been given wide publicity. It is right that students should understand the mechanics of civic government and other administrations. It is more vital, however, that they should understand the responsibilities of citizenship. And while we commend the attention they pay to the formalities of public office, we suggest they translate the speculative interest they hold in such matters into a little practical operation. They could, for example, provide a substantial measure of leadership in such things as playground supervision. That is but one of a number of undertakings in which they might demonstrate their appreciation of civic responsibilities. And a little material proof of this fundamental concept of citizenship would merit the applause of their fellows and elders far more than activities which might be construed as play-acting.

"DEFENSIVE" BASES

IT WOULD BE ENTIRELY TOO NAIVE to suggest that Russia's appreciation of the United States' demand for bases in the islands of the Pacific—under the general trusteeship of the United Nations but subject to American administration—may not have been anticipated by anybody but our good neighbors. Whether the quid pro quo has been anticipated is a different question. Russia has similar reasons for acquiring defensive areas in the Pacific and in Europe. As long as they all come under the trusteeship of the United Nations, and the trusteeship is able to rule on administrative problems of the various areas designated when they arise, all such agreements on points at issue between nations are to be welcomed. The real problem is to strengthen the United Nations and to safeguard the essential "human rights" involved. For example, in Korea, in Poland, Esthonia and Latvia areas have been "taken over" by Russia for defensive and administrative purposes. But these have not been "tagged" as coming under the general trusteeship of the United Nations.

POULTRY PRODUCERS

TWO SIGNIFICANT STATEMENTS made at the annual meeting of the Western Canada Produce Association in Vancouver should be noted. The first came from Mr. Barry, associate chief of the Poultry Marketing Services, federal Department of Agriculture, when he said "egg-producing is a specialized industry, and its price and structure can not be maintained if too many small flock producers enter the industry." Mr. Alex. Mercer, general manager of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers Association, made the second when he said that "butter churns of Canada had been robbed to supply the fluid milk markets."

These statements are interesting in view of the demand for further marketing legislation, primarily inaugurated to maintain prices. The first indicates that the small producers should not enter this specialized industry; the second that the price of fluid milk has been so attractive that the butter market has been neglected. Both, therefore, are rooted in the values of competition in marketing as against controls by legislation—which establish monopolies. The value of co-operation among specialized producers is undeniable, but is the value of competition similarly recognized?

OUR GIRL

EDITORIAL PAGES ACROSS CANADA have been lavish in their praise of Barbara Ann Scott, who recently won the women's figure skating championship of the world at Stockholm. We were happy, on the occasion of her triumph, to join in this popular expression of applause. What pleases us even more, however, is the reception which this talented and attractive Ottawa miss is receiving when her picture is projected on the silver screens here. Barbara Ann, in her celluloid portrayal, is receiving an ovation similar to that accorded favored royalty and cherished world figures. Unquestionably her achievements merit the response. It seems of more than ordinary significance, too, that this young Canadian is touching the hearts of her fellow citizens in so spontaneous a manner. To Victorians, Miss Scott is a personality emerging from the subtle magic of the news pages. But above all, she is a Canadian, and in her Canadians see the personification to a major degree of that character of nationhood which is now becoming increasingly pronounced. Barbara Ann hails from Ottawa—our capital. She is our girl.

LAUGHTER

PURE LAUGHTER IS A FLUID THING welling up from an untroubled heart. In infancy it gurgles like a small stream running over polished pebbles. In age it chuckles like water washing smooth cobbles. During the more boisterous years, it is a leaping, lunging thing, bursting forth like a river from a narrow gorge, erupting and spilling over its banks, splashing mirth indiscriminately in a merry and infectious tide. This is laughter as it should be, cradled in the pleasant smile and the carefree grin, growing to wash away care in its unfettered flow. It is clear water running, shallow or deep, but always clean, untainted. It is joy and life and a great friendliness.

It bears no kinship to the sad distortion that human meanness seeks to make of it when the curdling breath of cynicism freezes its spontaneity, when ridicule uses it as an icy tool to cut and wound. But though it can be perverted into a biting, harsh instrument when it becomes the vocal expression of a sneer, laughter can never be held in this mold. It must be free; it must be the child of liberty, or it becomes another creature, a stranger to the happiness from which it draws nurture in its true form.

Walter Lippmann

MR. BEVIN'S SCAPEGOAT

"NOT FOR THE FIRST time," said The London Economist a few weeks ago, "the Foreign Secretary has found that sweeping honest-to-goodness statements about British policy may be misunderstood." The latest example, his impromptu outburst making President Truman the scapegoat for his inability to reach a solution in Palestine, will certainly not promote a better understanding of anything.

For while Mr. Truman's statement during the elections was a regrettable incident, it was only an incident. It cannot be the reason why Mr. Bevin has failed to produce an agreed solution. For Mr. Truman has not meddled with British policy in India, in Egypt, or in Greece, and yet there, as in Palestine, there are no agreed solutions.

The fact is that in the whole region of the Middle East and southern Asia, from the eastern Mediterranean to Malaya, the British authority is insufficient. It is unable to induce, and certainly it is unable to impose, solutions for the historic transition from empire to independence.

IT IS CLEAR THAT the United States will be compelled to assume new and unexpected responsibilities as the British Empire in Asia dissolves. But how the U.S. will define and how she will discharge her responsibilities is as yet clear to no one. For British power cannot be replaced by American, even if the U.S. wanted to do it. The notion that the declining authority of Britain can be saved by American reinforcements, by a transfusion of blood and gold from the United States, is a sign of panic and a counsel of desperation. The United States can not and will not provide the troops and the money which the British Empire lacks. If she tried it, she would not inherit the Empire but only the enmities which it has acquired.

The argument for trying it is that the decline of the British imperial authority is creating a vacuum into which the Soviet Union will advance. The real question, however, is whether the way to prevent this happening is to fill the vacuum by attempting to bolster up the various regimes around the periphery of the Soviet Union.

PERHAPS THIS is the only way. But America must have no illusions as to the cost, the difficulties, and the probable failure of a policy which makes the United States the underwriter of all the old ruling elements against all the new forces among the peoples of Asia. There may be a better way, and it is worth attempting before acceding to the dismal conclusion that the U.S. must go to bat in the ninth inning and win the game that is so nearly lost.

The other way would be to deal with Moscow on the broad issue of whether the disorder and divisions of Europe, the Middle East, India, and China are to be exploited or are to be contained and regulated by agreement. The vacuum exists. It will become more of a vacuum. Either Russia and America will fight a world-wide diplomatic battle for influence and power in this vacuum, or they will agree that there is an equilibrium of power which restrains them both.

SUCH AN AGREEMENT, reflecting the over-all balance of power, would be the framework within which the United Nations might work with some hope of success not only in Palestine but in the whole Middle East, within which the divisions in China and India could at least be kept from threatening the peace of the world, within which there could be begun a settlement of Germany within some kind of European system.

There is more chance, it seems to me, of a direct equilibrium between Russia and America than there is of any kind of equilibrium which is based on indirect intervention at all the weak spots.

The attitude the Russians have taken on the Japanese mandated islands in the Pacific may be inspired in part by their own wish to have the U.S. recognize their conquests in Europe. But at the same time it shows the kind of agreement to which the Soviet government is amenable. That is the argument of power, and of a diplomatic policy tailored to the actual distribution of power.

Hunger Has No Politics

By JAMES THRASHER

THESE things all took place on the first day of Lent.

1. Pope Pius XII broadcast a vivid, moving appeal to the Catholic school children of America to save their pennies and send dimes to buy food and medicine for the hungry children of Europe and Asia.

2. The American Friends Service Committee addressed the American people through a full-page newspaper advertisment. This Quaker relief organization, whose life-saving efforts during and since the war have crowned a 30-year program of compassionate service, asked "not only for money for its own limited work, but also for a new burst, of nation-wide support for the work of all governmental and private agencies engaged in relief and reconstruction."

The Friends Committee is seeking $8,000,000 for 1947. But its work is admittedly only supplemental. So it asked citizens to let Washington know of their support of government plans to carry on the large-scale food shipments formerly handled by Unrra.

3. An American colonel reported on an army field team's survey of the famine area in Romania. He disclosed that half the people in the area are almost entirely without food, and that bark, acorns and grass are being mixed with meager rations of corn meal. Food reserves were only sufficient to maintain the present near-starvation level through February.

4. In Congress Charles W. Vursell, a representative from Illinois, demanded that this country withhold "any further gifts" to Soviet-dominated nations lest they help Generalissimo Stalin along the road to dictatorship of Europe.

HOW MUCH REAL GOOD

He said, "Great sums poured out for relief by the American taxpayers have been diverted to build up dictatorial governments in Europe." And in this connection, Mr. Vursell made the following remarkable statement:

"One wonders, aside from the pride of saving human lives from starvation, how much real good we have done in turning these human lives into hopeless political bondage."

Unless we completely misinterpret the implications of Mr. Vursell's speech, his contention is this: Saving lives has been a source of national pride, but this pride is outweighted by the fact that relief shipments have helped to build up communism.

Therefore those shipments must stop.

Mr. Vursell has decided that the hungry people within the Russian orbit might as well be bondage." So, if their continued dead as in hopeless political life depended on American help, Mr. Vursell would just let them die.

We can find no better comment on these views than that contained in the Frineds' advertisement. "We know the heart of America is still warm and kindly. . . . Our poor performance in this winter of agony is the result of confusion. As a nation we have mistaken victory for peace. We have failed to distinguish people from governments. It is as certain as the stars in their courses that there can be no peace in a world where children are starving. It makes no difference under what government they live."

Else Our Hands Become Cramped

IT IS EVIDENT that our people are anxious to do something about the Jubilee Hospital deficit, so holding a lottery has been suggested. But there is a better way, namely: By tithing.

God commanded His people to give a tenth of their increase to His service. Certainly, the care of the sick is God's service. "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house; and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of Hosts, if I will not open you the windows of Heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it!" Malachi 3:10. God's word never fails—He has promised and He will perform.

God says: "Prove me now herewith!" Surely, this is a challenge to our faith and obedience. Let us be courageous, not fearful and doubting. Not holding tightly, clutching what we possess, else our hands will become so cramped, we shall not be able to open them to receive the blessings. Let us be open-hearted and open-handed, having faith in God's promise to reward our obedience with showers of blessings. It is so heart-warming to give, that it seems almost a form of selfindulgence, but no doubt that glad feeling is one of the rewards.

If we have one hundred dollars we must give ten; if ten, give one. Whatever the amount of our income, be it large or small, one tenth belongs to God. Such wonderful rewards are promised if we obey: "And all nations shall call you blessed, for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith the Lord of Hosts," Malachi 3:11, 12

How happy and relieved the management, the doctors and the nurses of the Jubilee Hospital will be, when the people of Victoria rally to the help of that great institution of healing! A wonderful blessing will come upon the city and surrounding districts; yes, and upon the whole of our beautiful island! Never shall it be said: "That we are so lacking in faith, patriotism and love of our fellow citizens, that we came not to the help of the Lord's work! Think what a wonderful opportunity this is to teach the little ones and the young people the Law of The Lord! The little ones will respond and believe that God will bless and reward them in tithing. The generous heart of youth will rally to the need, and will experience the joy and satisfaction of self-sacrifice, and will surely be blessed.

Hear what our Lord says about giving: "Give, and it shall be given unto you, good measure, pressed down and shaken together and running over, shall men give into your bosom; for with the same measure that ye mete withal, it shall be measured to you again." Luke 6:38.

REMEDY

Do you feel you are always unlucky, always in trouble, cannot make a success of anything? Here's the remedy—Obey God's command, and render unto Him the Tithe. Don't say: "We must pay this debt or that one—and if there is any left, we will pay the Tithe." That is not how God deals with us. "He giveth liberally and upbraideth not." Even so, when we have rendered the Tithe, we are only obeying God's Law. We should find, after doing so, and being greatly blessed as a result; that we shall be able to really experience the joy of giving. He which soweth sparingly, shall reap also sparingly, and he which soweth bountifully, shall reap also bountifully. II Cor. 9:6. "According to your faith, be it unto you." When our Blessed Lord comes in His Glory, may we hear Him say: Come ye blessed of my Father! . . . "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me." Matt. 25.

I suggest subscriptions could be sent to the Royal Jubilee Hospital Fund, Jubilee Hospital. Stores and offices could receive collections from employees. Schools could pay to a member of each class, who could forward amounts to Royal Jubilee Hospital.

(MRS.) M. J. B. BENNETT.

Liverpool Radar

U.K. Information Office

THE port of Liverpool, England, will be one of the first in the world to utilise radar on a full-scale basis. The equipment used, which will be the first of its kind in the world, will enable the port to remain open in all types of weather. It will include an aerial scanner weighing two tons rotating on top of an 80-foot steel tower erected at the seaward end of the North Docks system.

In the control room a number of different displays will show large-scale pictures of the approach channels. These pictures will show accurately the position of all buoys in the Liverpool Bay and will enable the position of all ships to be spotted from moment to moment within a distance of 20 miles. Installation of the equipment is expected to be completed by the spring of next year.

WINDS OF REACTION

Washington Post

What Senators Bries and Taft and Wherry have in mind when they berate Mr. Lilienthal as "an extreme New Dealer" is that he would not countenance private monopoly in respect of atomic energy. He would resolutely execute the intent of congressional act. But their quarrel is not with him. It is with the idealism and exaltation, in which momentarily they themselves shared, that led Congress to build better than it knew. It would be tragic if the winds of reaction were now to blow that structure down.

THE WRONG BOBS

Ottawa Journal

One begins to wonder who were most at fault—the Royal Commissioners who uncovered a menacing situation affecting national security, or the Canadian agents of Russian spies who peddled our secrets to a foreign power.

The thing to remember, we think, is that but for the admittedly unconventional methods used by the Commission many or all of those convicted of espionage activities might have escaped, probably would have escaped detection and punishment. A very bad situation had to be faced, and we think events have proved the Commission justified in the measures it adopted.

WHO GOES TO MOSCOW?

Montreal Star

The German peace treaty, after all, is not to be the sole concern of the Big Four. With the gracious and distinguished permission of the Soviet Union all countries which were over-run by Hitler are to be admitted to the membership of standing committee which will sit outside the council chamber in Moscow and discuss those matters which the Big Four will be discussing inside. The concession, such as it is, marks a notable Russian retreat from its previous stubborn attitude. It is not, however, one which Canada, will be specially interested in, for Canada was not over-run by Hitler and therefore will not be invited. Neither will Australia.

Poland, however, will be there. So will Denmark and Norway. So will Belgium and the Netherlands. So will Jugoslavia and Greece. But not Canada. Not Australia.

Liberal Education

London (Ont.) Free Press

HON. L. B. PEARSON, Canadian under-secretary for external affairs, one of the most capable of our younger men in public life, believes that the basic arts education of the old school is the best training and that over-specialization can be a danger. In an address to a parents-teachers convention delivered at Ottawa, Mr. Pearson deplored "the sloppy trend of education which has a slangy way of using the English language" but remarked that educational conditions were still worse in the United States. "There," he said, "for a given sum you can obtain a degree in janitor engineering." He regretted that Americans know less of Canada than Canadians know of the United States, and emphasized the need of education in world affairs.

If education means objectivity; if it means understanding the other man's problems as well as your own, then education is a fundamental of peace. For example, Mr. Pearson said: "We in Canada should be willing to limit our national rights in order to obtain international understanding. The only way we can hope to succeed is by education, and education starts right in our public schools."

SOVEREIGNTY

The degree of education necessary before a nation proves willing to limit its sovereignty in order to achieve world peace must be very high indeed. To what extent should national sovereignty be limited? That is the top price that a nation should pay for peace? How far can a nation safely go on the path of compromise with irrevocable loss?

Today national sovereignty is the stumbling block in the way of international harmony, and so long as it exists with its present force unabated it always stand in the way. Education, as Mr. Pearson says, is the solution, education being able to train the natural intelligence to the necessary perception. When he is on sound grounds in the basic arts, which liberate the mind.

The world needs liberal education—in the classic sense—and the trend of Canadian education is in that direction despite the new inclination towards science. However, in many countries today the trend is the other way—toward the authoritarian state and totalitarianism. One of the most useful things Canada can do could render nations to be the instruments of the international spirit in world affairs.

More Summer Camps Needed For Youth

"There is a crying need for summer camps for young people throughout the Dominion of Canada and we of the Y.M.C.A. are doing everything in our power to promote this idea," Arthur Buckley, M.B.E., national secretary of the young men and adult program of the Y.M.C.A., said today.

Mr. Buckley, who is in the city on a two-day visit, has been associated with the Y.M.C.A. work for 19 years. He recently returned from Europe from where he spent five and one-half years as a director of Y.M.C.A. War Services in England and on the continent.

Summer camps operating on a non-commercial self-supporting basis, should be operated mainly for the 18 to 24-year-old age group, Mr. Buckley said. Expenses at a camp of this type should be so adjusted that young people could afford to attend the camps on their weekly salaries, he pointed out.

In speaking of the older teenage groups, Mr. Buckley said that youth forums, radio programs, drama clubs, sketch clubs and outdoor activities should all be brought into any program designed for these youngsters. The clubs should not be built around dances alone, he said.

There is an acute lack of interest in youth leadership, he said. Many organizations in Canada are working with only 10 per cent of the required number of leaders and this shortage is seriously hampering the advance of youth groups.

Mr. Buckley addressed the Y's Men's Club at its charter night presentation in the Y.M.C.A. program lounge Friday night.

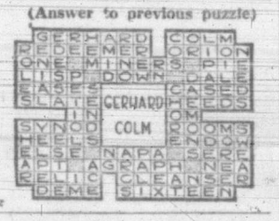
(Answer to previous puzzle)



The DOCTOR Says:

PERITONITIS IS LOCALIZED INFECTION

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

The lining membrane of the abdominal cavity (peritoneum) may become inflamed (peritonitis) in extension of infection from abdominal organs, from the blood, or from introduction of irritants.

Infections which originate in the abdominal cavity and spread to the peritoneum usually have a tendency to be localized, while blood infections are apt to be widespread. A certain amount of reaction occurs whenever the abdominal cavity is entered at operation, but this quickly subsides as healing occurs.

Victims of peritonitis usually have fever, rapid pulse and shallow breathing. The abdomen is tender. The patient cannot lie with his legs stretched out as this tenses the muscles in the abdominal cavity and causes pain. The abdominal muscles become rigid in their effort to protect underlying structures. This is a defence mechanism of the body to stop further injury to inflamed tissues.

Treatment of peritonitis depends upon the cause. If it is the result of an inflamed appendix, removal of the diseased organ will be followed by cure, or it may be necessary to drain the pus from the region to promote healing. Removal of an inflamed appendix may be postponed if the surgeon finds the infection has become walled off as the result of peritoneal reaction.

Use of sulfa drugs or penicillin in cases of peritonitis aids the body in overcoming the infection in most cases. Sometimes the sulfa drugs are introduced into the peritoneal cavity at operation or they are given by mouth.

PENICILLIN HELPS

Two-thirds of the peritonitis deaths which occur each year result from perforations of an inflamed appendix. Surgeons now are reporting marked reduction in fatalities from this disease by continuous penicillin injections in the veins, decompression of the stomach with a tube, and supportive treatment.

Placing drains in the abdominal cavity in peritonitis is one of the most exacting surgical procedures. Experienced operators [illegible] place the drains [illegible] amount of accumulated infectious material is released. As the drains are removed, healing occurs by natural processes from [illegible]

NEW YORK REAL ESTATE WAS SOLD SIX ACRES FOR A CENT

Before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock, settlers from Holland started a little village on Manhattan Island. Four small houses, or huts, were set up to form a kind of trading post. They were on, or near, ground through which the street known as Broadway now runs, and they might be called "the very beginning" of the City of New York.

As the years passed, the little trading post grew into the village which was given the name of New Amsterdam.

In speaking about the Indians in the area of Manhattan Island, one Dutch settler wrote:

"They have black hair and brown eyes. They have broad shoulders and strong limbs. They can carry heavy loads and run swiftly. The men have little or no beards—they pluck out the hairs with their fingers. Their skins are brownish, something like the gypsies of Holland."

The first Dutch governor sent to rule over the little Dutch settlement at the mouth of the Hudson was named Peter Minuit. He had been told to try to buy Manhattan Island from the Indians.

Calling the chiefs and some of the other leaders of the natives together, Minuit talked about the plan. They agreed to turn over the land to the Dutch, in trade for hatchets, along with some beads and other trinkets. These articles were worth 60 guilders in Dutch money, or about $24 in our money.

Manhattan Island has an area of 22 square miles, and we may figure the price paid as a dollar and nine cents a square mile. Each acre cost about one-sixth of a cent. That surely was a bargain price! At the present time, some of the land on the island is worth more than a million dollars an acre.

Some Indian huts existed on the island, but the Manhattan Indians had their headquarters to the north, on the eastern side of the Hudson. They had been using the island more for hunting and fishing than as a place of residence.

Family Conversion To Peacetime Life Welfare Problem

The problems facing the Family Welfare Association have changed with the coming of peace, Mrs. E. M. Campbell, general secretary, told the annual meeting Thursday, with the most common difficulties now coming up associated with readjustment of servicemen's families to civilian life.

"Incompatibility of background, inability in many cases to accept changes in the financial set-up, isolation from family and friends, inadequacy of housing are some of the contributing factors," Mrs. Campbell said. She indicated that the problems of adjustment facing these young people can to a large extent be overcome through agency help and community acceptance.

The question of whether or not the Family Welfare Association will amalgamate with the Children's Aid Society is still undecided, she reported, pending the results of the investigation conducted recently by Miss Mary McGeer. E. H. Wilson, president of the board, also referred to the possibilities of amalgamation in his report.

The work of the Family Welfare Association for the federal government in connection with the Dependents' Board of Trustees had steadily declined since the beginning of 1946, Mr. Wilson reported, and last October the special department of the agency to deal with these cases was closed.

HOUSING FOR AGED

Improvement of housing conditions for the aged was strongly recommended in Mr. Wilson's report. He suggested that a block of flats, a large house, or cottage homes at reasonable rents should be provided for old-age pensioners, and that those requiring care and attention should be placed in a suitable building with someone in charge to look after them.

During the past year $11,869 was given by the Community Chest for the work of the Family Welfare Association, which included Sunshine Camp. Operating costs for the camp were $3,320, and disbursements during the year for the other work of the association were $12,566.

In order to place Sunshine Camp into satisfactory condition to operate this year it will require an expenditure of approximately $5,000, Mr. Wilson told the directors, which will have to be considered by the incoming board.

2,317 FAMILIES HELPED

In the statistical report submitted it was shown that 2,317 families received help during 1946; 573 of these coming to the association's attention for the first time.

Among the problems dealt with during the year were 30 child care problems, 121 financial, 45 health, 99 marital, 175 miscellaneous, which included such items as housing, clothing, unmarried mothers, war brides, and old age. Biggest item remained the 701 investigations for the dependents' board of trustees.

During the year, 2,472 visits were made, and 1,570 office interviews held.

Re-elected to the board of directors for the year were Mrs. C. Marshall, Mrs. F. G. Mulliner, Mrs. C. D. Schofield, Joseph McKenna, Dr. J. H. Moore and F. E. Winslow.

Open Baby Clinic At Camp Tuesday

A "Well-Baby Clinic" will be opened at Macaulay Camp, populated by war veteran's families, through the efforts of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, next Tuesday afternoon at 2.

Provided by the City-Esquimalt Union Health Board, the clinic will be operated once a month, the first Tuesday in each, and will be open to all children under school-age in the camp and district surrounding the camp area.

Forrest L. Shaw, chairman of the citizens' council, which has done much to provide homeless veterans with shelter for their families, will officiate at the opening ceremonies. Also present will be Dr. W. L. Murray Anderson, medical health officer, and health nurses.

To Replant Trees On City Boulevards

A tree replanting program is to be undertaken on the city boulevards to replace large forest-type trees which have been cut down in many instances, it was announced by Ald. F. G. Mullinor, acting chairman, following a parks committee meeting.

Replantings are being recommended to Monday's City Council meeting as follows: Vine maples and laburnum on Thurlow Street; magnolia and white hawthorn on Linden Avenue between Fort and Richardson Streets; Katsura trees interplanted between Mountain Ash on St. Charles Street between Despard Avenue and Fairfield Road; spirea to replace the laurel on Fairfield Road between Cook and Linden.

The removal of eight boulevard trees in various parts of the city is being recommended, as well as laurels on Vancouver Street at intersections where they interfere with vision and cause traffic hazards.

It is being recommended that the petition asking for construction of a boulevard on Fairfield Road between Linden and Moss Streets be acted on.

'The Jolson Story' Gets West Premiere At Capitol Theatre

Victoria comes into the theatrical spotlight starting Monday when the western Canada premiere showing off the much heralded "The Jolson Story" takes places at the Capitol Theatre. All filmdom, as well as the critics, have acclaimed this to be the most exciting entertainment event in 25 years. That such a statement is warranted is substantiated by the picture's appeal and unusual long runs in such cities as San Francisco where it ran 10 weeks; seven weeks at Radio City Music Hall in New York and now in its 10th week at the Liberty Theatre, Seattle.

"The Jolson Story" has been well termed a triple-threat picture—because of its fine acting, good music and the recapturing of a pleasant era. Filmed in technicolor, the picture runs over two hours and unfolds a story tracing Al Jolson's career from boyhood to stardom in the early days of talking pictures. Larry Parks who plays the leading role gives a memorable performance.

Victoria has long been known in the theatrical world as a city that shows its appreciation to the full for the good things in entertainment. According to advance reports the local demand will be more than satisfied with the coming of this fine picture Monday. Owing to the importance and length of the film, doors will open daily at 11.30 a.m.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Philip Dorn, Holland-born actor, has one of the greatest roles of his film career in this country in Republic's distinguished "I've Always Loved You," produced and directed in technicolor by Frank Borzage. The picture, in which Borzage introduces his new romantic team, Catherine McLeod and William Carter, is now at the Capitol Theatre. Artur Rubinstein, world's greatest pianist, recorded the piano music for the film score.

ROYAL THEATRE

Warner Bros.' "Deception," a dramatic love story about one woman and the two men she loves, heads the new program currently at the Royal Theatre. Starring Bette Davis, Paul Henreid and Claude Rains the film was directed by Irving Rapper and produced by Henry Blanke.

PLAZA THEATRE

The broad red garter which Ann Miller wears around her shapely leg in her dance number, "Man Is Brother to a Mule," in Columbia's "The Thrill of Brazil," currently playing at the Plaza Theatre, was used in the famous cancan chorus of the "Black Crook" company of the gay '90's.

OAK BAY THEATRE

"Most photographed girl in England" is the unofficial title held by Jean Kent who plays in "Waterloo Road," a Gainsborough picture now at the Oak Bay Theatre. In appearance Jean is a luscious pin-up type. In addition, she's an accomplished actress—a girl who will tackle any type of role, but has yet to taste failure.

YORK THEATRE

Full of fluff and nonsense and as heartwarming as a spring day, Warner Bros.' latest comedy romance, "Pillow To Post," currently at the York Theatre. Starring Ida Lupino, Sydney Greenstreet and William Prince, the farce comedy presents a screen full of shy kisses, sly glances and hilarious situations.

PAUL HENREID again plays opposite Bette Davis in Warner Bros. romantic drama "Deception," presented today at the Royal Theatre.

Where To Go Tonight

(As Advertised)

ATLAS—"Holiday in Mexico," starring Walter Pidgeon.

CAPITOL—"I've Always Loved You," starring Catherine McLeod and William Carter.

DOMINION—George Formby in "George in Civvy Street.

OAK BAY—"Waterloo Road," with Stewart Granger.

PLAZA—"The Thrill of Brazil," starring Evelyn Keyes and Keenan Wynn.

RIO—"Shady Lady," with Ginny Simms.

ROYAL—Bette Davis in "Deception."

YORK—"Pillow to Post," starring Ida Lupino and Sydney Greenstreet.

ATLAS THEATRE

One of the season's most delightful technicolor musicals is now showing on the Atlas screen with the showing of M-G-M's "Holiday in Mexico." Rich in acting and musical talent, this picture boasts a cast headed by Walter Pidgeon, with the lovely Ilona Massey and youthful Jane Powell handling the singing chores, aided by Jose Iturbi and Xavier Cugat. Punctuating the merriment is Roddy McDowall as the adolescent admirer of Miss Powell.

RIO THEATRE

"Shady Lady," Universal's pretentious new romantic comedy, now at the Rio Theatre. Charles Coburn is co-starred with Ginny Simms and Robert Paige. George Waggner produced and directed the much-discussed picture.

The story, say the advance notices, has been expertly fashioned to exhibit the talents of its three stars. An impressive supporting cast includes Martha O'Driscoll, Alan Curtis and the inimitable Joe Frisco. Others in the film are Kathleen Howard and Thomas E. Jackson.

Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — We suspect Orson Welles figured it out as a topper for all his thespian efforts, but we're betting Rita Hayworth looks 208 times prettier. You'll see 104 Orson Welleses and 104 Rita Hayworths in a trick shot in "The Lady From Shanghai." Background is an amusement park house of mirrors.

CAPONE STORY

News item: "Warner Bros. may film the life story of Al Capone." Inasmuch as Warner Bros. is the studio "combining good pictures with good citizenship," this looks like the year's most difficult assignment.

Twosome of the week: Janis Paige helping Keenan Wynn forget. They were in a dark corner at Billy Berg's.

Virginia Mayo will wear an all-lace bathing suit for a scene in "Out of the Blue." Don Loper designed it—brown lace on flesh-colored jers. . . There's a warning tag attached: "Please don't go into the water in this bathing suit. It's not censor-proof."

The Andrews Sisters are learning a dance routine for their singing spot with Bing Crosby in "Road to Rio." In the movies, you can't stand still and sing. Well, maybe Bing can.

Dinah Shore and hubby George Montgomery would like to appear on the screen together in a film verson of the mystery thriller, "The Little Man Who Wasn't There."

It's Difficult-to-Believe-Dept.: Janet Blair, a former band singer, plays a band singer in "The Fabulous Dorseys." Ann Dvorak, a Chester Hale legster, plays a dancer in "The Long Night."

An eastern syndicate is after Barton MacLane to buy his 30,000-acre Modesto, Calif., ranch for conversion into a swank vacation resort. . . . Odd background for a Hollywood dance director: Kenny Williams, teaching Betty Grable her routines for "Mother Wore Tights," once was a steel worker and a baseball player.

STILL DUCKING

Heavyweight champ Joe Louis visited the set of "Body and Soul" to give John Garfield a few boxing pointers, then learned that Jack Roper, whom he knocked out some years ago in a title fight, was chief juicer of the electrical crew. Louis looked high and low for his erstwhile challenger to pay his respects, but Roper couldn't be found. After Louis left, Roper suddenly appeared, explaining sheepishly: "I was still ducking the guy, if you must know."

Mrs. M. J. Little Dies

Mrs. Mary Jane Little, 75, wife of M. J. Little and resident of Victoria for the past 51 years, died at her 642 Dallas Road residence Friday.

Born in Scarboro, Ont., she was for many years a member of the First United Church and an active worker in the Women's Missionary Society.

She is survived by her husband, a son, Thomas M. Little, three grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 from Hayward's Funeral Chapel; interment in the family plot at Ross Bay.

High School Girls Hear Need For Nurses

The recruitment drive sponsored by the Registered Nurses' Association in Victoria to promote interest among teen-age girls in the profession of nursing, continued this past week with an address given by Miss S. Becker, nurse in charge of the operating room at St. Joseph's Hospital, to girls of the Oak Bay High School.

"Canada needs 9,000 nurses," she said, "and of these 450 are needed in British Columbia."

She urged high school girls to consider nursing as a profession, not necessarily as a lifetime work but as one of the fields of public endeavor that could well be explored for a shorter period of years.

Many new phases of the profession have developed in the last few years, she told her attentive audience, including that of psychiatric nursing which has developed very rapidly. This is a field that demands unusual ability and initiative, she warned.

Mrs. E. McKinnon, public health nurse in Oak Bay has spoken, or will speak to students at Mt. Newton High School, Sidney High School, Mt. Douglas School, Central Junior High School and Oak Bay Junior High School.

2nd Students' Concert

An extra students' concert is planned by the Victoria Musical Arts Society for Wednesday at 8, at the Little Centre, 965 Yates Street. Performing will be many young students from the junior and intermediate groups who did not appear at the first concert because of time limitations.

Girls' Club Topic At Little Centre

Recalling vivid wartime blitz experiences in London, Mrs. J. Godman, founder of the London Canadian Girls' Club, will tell the story of this unique venture at the Little Centre on Tuesday evening. "Club Life On a Shoestring," is the title of Mrs. Godman's address, which will give an intimate picture of the activities of the club which became a bright spot in the lives of hundreds of Canadian service girls.

A feature of the evening's program will be the showing of 125 natural color slides of scenes of the English countryside taken by Monroe E. Pinckard, recently with the film and photo unit of the Canadian Army overseas. Included in the pictures taken while the photographer was overseas, are scenes of Wales, Cornwall, Norfolk, Chester and the Scilly Isles, in a series entitled "The Camera's Poetry."

The evening program officially opens a loan exhibition of notable paintings made available to the Little Centre by public-spirited citizens.

Youth Charged At Hi-Y Sessions

Miss Barbara Borthwicke, left, Magee High School, Vancouver, is prosecuting attorney; Miss June Romney, Burnaby North High School, Vancouver, the accused; Miss Florence DiFlorio, right, Grandview High School of Commerce, clerk of the court, and in the background, Miss Patricia Baggs of King Edward High School, as the judge.

This morning in the Memorial Hall youth went on trial, as Hi-Y girls from representative cities in western Canada commenced the serious side of a two-day annual session.

The session theme, "Youth on Trial," was arranged in regular courtroom style with five main charges presented, lack of proper plans for the future, improper use of leisure time, lack of work citizenship, lack of proper responsibility to the church and poor management of its own club affairs.

The final charge is in the hands of a Hi-Y clinic for club members with club leaders from Vancouver.

Discussion leaders for the other charges are Dr. Henrietta Anderson, Recreational Council; Rev. William Hills, St. George's Anglican Church, Cordova Bay; Willard Ireland, provincial archivist.

Panels met all this morning with prosecution and defence and findings were presented at the afternoon session.

More than 100 delegates arrived Friday and were officially welcomed by Dr. Olga Jardine at the Y.W.C.A., where they registered. An opening ceremonial with Victoria delegates, Shirley Johnson and Evelyn Wilms, assisted by Joan Boothe and Anne Fyfe was given and then girls dispersed to various homes where they are being billeted.

A "Disorder in Court" party was held in the evening at the Teen Canteen when Victoria delegates were hosts to the visitors. Miss Rita Perry of Victoria Normal School and Miss Margaret Lifton of Victoria High School were in charge of arrangements and Miss Muriel Johnson of Victoria High in charge of refreshments.

There were many colorful costumes. Games and a singsong were enjoyed.

Tonight at 6.30 a banquet will be given in the Memorial Hall when Dr. J. M. Ewing, Victoria College principal, will address the gathering.

London-Paris Spring Styles Feature The Ultra-Feminine

LONDON (AP)—A turnabout silhouette—trim and unexaggerated for day wear, soft and flowing for after dark—is London's fashion bid for spring.

Designs for export, displayed at shows by the 10 leading houses banded together as the Incorporated Society of London fashion designers emphasize charm and graciousness. It's a full departure from wartime uniform austerity and from the fussiness of many 1946 offerings.

There appears to be no rigid rule for this year's clothes. But out of the showings appeared these broad trends:

Daytime shoulders are slightly padded, afternoon cocktail dresses and evening and garden party clothes often show sloped shoulder lines. There are many strapless evening dresses for really big occasions.

Sleeves are mostly three-quarter on dresses.

Hips are accentuated at all times, but not by stiff padding.

It's a bad year for anyone without a slim waistline. Except for some casual swing-back top coats and three-quarter length coolie coats, everything is waisted.

Skirts by day are a little longer —16 inches off the floor. Many for day and evening are heavily draped. Evening skirts are either very slim, and slit to the knee, or very full.

STYLED IN FRANCE

If you like birds, forests and the fresh colors of nature in spring, and if a touch of eccentricity is a thing you favor, then Schiaparelli's collection will appeal to you in many ways.

The silhouette is extremely feminine and tends to imprison the legs and shoulders, and give fullness to hips and bust.

For tailored suits, Schiaparelli favors the shaped line, emphasized by gores starting from the waist, or bulging "box-pockets" shut by a cute little lid. Skirts are straight and of the same length as last season.

Black suits are matched by linen blouses with embroideries and eyelets, either with high-corseted starched collars or fluffy jabots. Spring suits are of checked tweeds and very thick wool, in different shades of blue, or red and blue.

Top coats are bulky, worn with beautiful leather belts.

For spring and evening dresses, Schiaparelli made a lavish use of cotton. Colors are lovely and bright and printed patterns display a lot of imagination, all centred on farm-yard animals and forest life. But in silk as well as in cotton, polka-dots are back in favor.

When the Royal visitors reached Lovedale a massed choir of 5,000 drawn from all the native schools in the Ciskei native reserves sang native songs.

The Victoria Cymmrodorion Society celebrated St. David's Day with a program of songs, recitations and speeches at a dinner at Terry's Friday evening. AFFAIRS SEVERED BEFORE MARRIAGE SAVE POST-CEREMONY MISERY

Dear Miss Dix: I have gone with a girl for three years. During this time we became engaged. Recently she broke off with me and it took the light out of my life. Since then I have not been able to do a darn thing. I have tried going with other girls, but cannot have a pleasant time. I can't even have any fun when I go out with a bunch of boys. I can't keep my mind on my work.

What do you think of a girl who will go with a fellow for that long and then drop him?

BORED.

Answer: Well, I wouldn't think you would be bored with all of that trouble on your mind. I should think you have plenty to worry over. There is nothing like a fickle sweetheart to keep a chap on his toes in trying to figure out what she is going to do next and which way the cat is going to jump.

But, see here, son, you know that sometimes a trouble is a blessing in disguise, and the things that happen to us that seem at the time to be a great misfortune turn out to be the very things that make us. And this is particularly true of love affairs, especially boy and girl romances.

WOMEN CHANGE

Apply this to your own case. You have been going with Mary Jane, or whatever her name is, for three years and you were engaged to her. No doubt at first she loved you, but in three years a bobby-soxer grows up and develops into being a women. Her tastes change in boys just as they do in hats or dresses. She gets emotionally mature just as she does bodily. And, without her intending it or wishing it, she finds that she no longer loves you, and she does the only honest and honorable thing in the circumstances. She breaks off the engagement.

Of course, you are wounded in your heart and in your vanity, but think ... much ... You would be hurt if all of this happened after marriage and you found that you had a wife who had ceased to love you. You would have trouble for sure then, and after you had stood it for a little while you would probably get a divorce, and maybe there would be a little child for you to have to give up, and that would be a heartbreak.

P.-T. Council Endorses Building Program

At the meeting of the Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council held at the Little Centre Friday evening, members endorsed the Greater Victoria school building program.

Resolutions were forwarded to British Columbia Parent-Teacher Federation, asking that a course in sex education be started in the public schools, and urging the implementation of the Royal Commission on Penalogy.

A committee, Mrs. J. R. Nicolson, Mrs. J. J. Carney and A. Cullin was named to work with Mrs. H. A. Beckwith to explore the possibilities of exchanging students within the province for educational purposes, this to be sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Associations.

The president, Mrs. J. W. Blair, was in the chair and announcement was made that combined membership of associations is now 3,124.

Mrs. Carney reported that groups of children will be taken to the Legislature while it is in session and it was decided on the recommendation of Saanich P.-T.A. to invite Miss Margaret Clay to give talks and show films on the work of libraries within the community.

Members were informed that the Nursery School Association will provide two more bursaries and that they are sending a resolution to the governors of the University of British Columbia asking for the re-establishment of a nursery school training course there.

Insight Of Problems Confronting Blind Outlined To Lions

Describing blindness as a black curtain, so impenetrable that it is difficult to imagine, Capt. M. C. Robinson, O.B.E., national director of the Canadian Institute for the Blind, presented a revealing insight into the problems confronting the blind to members of the Lions Club in the Empress Hotel Friday.

Capt. Robinson, himself blind since World War I, said it is difficult to imagine the feeling of tragedy that one who is stricken blind encounters when he realizes the nature of the affliction that has been thrust upon him. One feels resentment against the world and against God, he said.

Quoting the words of Shakespear whom, he said, summed up the feelings of the blind, Capt. Robinson said "He who is stricken blind cannot forget the precious treasure of eyesight lost."

"Blindness is no respecter of persons," he said, "and although we consider ourselves a select group it is not our object to have others join our organization. We like to keep our group small." In this respect, he said, the C.N.I.B. is doing grand work in their prevention of blindness program. The C.N.I.B. will arrange for examinations, temporary maintenance, and the supplying of glasses where needed to assist in prevention of blindness.

DOING GRAND JOB

Home teachers are doing a grand job in aiding stricken persons in overcoming their handicaps, Capt. Robinson said. Blind themselves, they understand the conditions, visit the afflicted, and instill a ray of hope into the blind.

"If blind you can gradually condition yourself to overcome the handicap; you can learn various crafts and hobbies. Positions are found in many industrial plants or sheltered workshops for the blind and in every case there is 100 per cent efficiency," he said.

Capt. Robinson demonstrated his ability to light a cigarette and the ease with which he accomplished the feat bore out the message of his address.

"The public is kind and sympathetic toward us," he said, "but we still need personal services. There are 1,001 things that can be done for the blind of Greater Victoria such as aiding them in their bowling leagues, taking them for drives and assisting them whenever possible."

New Device Shows How Far Car Goes Stopping

Watson's Driving School has added a new feature to its dual-control automobile. The device shows just how far a car travels from the time a driver realizes the need for stopping to the time the car comes to a standstill. The apparatus consists of a modified .22 calibre rifle, mounted on the front of the car, connected on the same circuit with a small red light set over the windshield, in front of the driver.

By pressing a button, the instructor causes the gun to fire a chalk-filled bullet into the road at the same time that the light flashes on. The light is the signal for the driver to apply the brakes. The driver can measure the exact distance that it took him to stop. More important is the fact that he can actually see the stopping distance.

"Over ninety per cent of all stops made are planned stops," A. M. Watson, inventor of the mechanism said. "Such stops give the driver no trouble at all and he soon takes the attitude that he can 'stop on a dime'. However, when an emergency arises he finds, often too late, that he cannot stop as suddenly as he imagines."

As well as giving demonstrations to experienced drivers, Mr. Watson hopes to take his car to city schools. He believes that if the youngsters can see just how far a car travels in stopping, they will think twice before they run out into a street without looking. Also, it will impress the older students, who are learning to drive, just how necessary it is to drive slowly.

President of the Toronto Flying Club from 1940 to 1944, Maj. French, at the annual meeting of the club Feb. 21, also was presented with the Past President's Trophy, a miniature propeller. A member of the Royal Flying Corps in World War I, Maj. French was shot down in France, made a prisoner of war, escaped twice, only to be recaptured. Always interested in flying, he has been actively associated with the Toronto Flying Club for 13 years.

Problems Discussed By Turkey Breeders

Nutrition, management, marketing and disease problems faced by turkey breeders of Vancouver Island were discussed Thursday night at a meeting of the Vancouver Island Turkey Improvement Association.

The meeting was the first of a series designed to bring speakers to discuss these problems before the association. C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, president, served as chairman, and C. T. Beard, M.L.A., as acting secretary. A record number of producers from the southern end of Vancouver Island attended.

Professor S. N. Wood emphasized that little organized work had been done in nutrition research for turkeys. He noted the value of careful observation throughout the feeding period to detect disorders before the disorder became acute. He also discussed diseases common to growing turkeys and gave the latest findings in preventing and combating them.

W. H. Hope, provincial poultry inspector, stressed the need of further work by breeders to make Vancouver Island the source of outstanding stock for B.C. and the prairie provinces.

Mr. Beard appealed for more members in the association to allow the association to extend its efforts for the industry.

The Good Shepherd

Scripture: John 10

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

If a public opinion poll should ask what passage in the Old Testament is considered most outstanding, a great majority of those questioned probably would name the 23rd Psalm—"The Shepherd Psalm."

That Psalm, with its imagery of the Lord as Shepherd, leading His own, feeding them, comforting them, surrounding their lives with goodness and mercy, and accompanying them, even through the dark valley of death, has been written into the world's life and literature. It presents an ideal of rich, joyful, and beautiful living; and it is a message of consolation in the sadness of death, a part of almost every funeral ritual.

The words of Jesus concerning Himself as the Good Shepherd must be read, as they were originally heard, in relation to that Psalm. It was familiar to everyone who heard the Saviour speak.

His listeners understood that the Master was identifying Himself with the Lord of that Shepherd Psalm, and His words intensified the strife and division concerning Him, some accepting His love and lordship, others saying, "He hath a devil."

Can a devil, believers asked, open the eyes of the blind? "These are not the words of him that hath a devil."

Did believers or unbelievers notice that Jesus had added something not in the Psalm? It was the reference to the sacrifice of the Shepherd himself, "The good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep."

"I am the good shepherd," said Jesus, thereby accepting for Himself that sacrificial mission, and expressing the realization that His ministry was to be fulfilled in His sacrificial death. There is tragedy as well as beauty associated with sheep and shepherding; and Jesus faced the tragedy as well as the beauty.

The other evening I witnessed a movie which pictured vast flocks of sheep and frisky little lambs. Watching, I could not entirely shake from my mind the fate of these playful creatures and of many in the vast herds.

The wool on their backs would go to keep millions warm, but the lives of many would be sacrificed for the sustenance of peoples in countries and cities far away. It is not a pleasant thought, but one that we must face.

A strange law of sacrifice runs through life. It is life's unexplained mystery, but it was the law of the life of the Good Shepherd, and it must be the law of our lives if we would be like Him.

Our sacrifice may not be upon a cross, or a sacrifice of blood, but it must be a sacrifice of devotion if we would justify what others have done and given that we may live. That, I think, is the challenge of the Good Shepherd.

Insecticides should not be spread around open fires, since some of them are mixed with inflammable solvents.

Red Cross Appeal Opening Monday Given Support By Labor Leaders

Two Canadian labor leaders joined in statements urging support of the Canadian Red Cross Society national appeal for $5,000,000, which opens Monday, according to reports from Ottawa today.

A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said he had no hesitation, on behalf of the Congress, in warmly commending the appeal to the workers and the people of Canada.

Percy R. Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, said "The great humanitarian work continuously carried on by the Red Cross Society is fully recognized and appreciated by organized labor. I can assure the Canadian Red Cross Society that their campaign for $5,000,000 for peacetime work in Canada, open March 3, will receive the utmost support of the officers and members of all affiliated organizations through this Dominion."

Mr. Mosher said the opportunity was being presented to the people of Canada "to show their appreciation of the work which has been done by the Canadian Red Cross Society during the war and to make it possible for the society to carry on the great peacetime program which it has planned.

"No voluntary activity makes such a strong appeal to the hearts of Canadians and none has built up such confidence in the value and effectiveness of its activities," he declared.

SYMBOL OF SERVICE

During the war the Red Cross "was recognized as the symbol not only of mercy but of efficient and kindly service," Mr. Mosher continued. "Now, in peacetime, there is a vast amount of work which the Red Cross must undertake if it is given the financial support it deserves.

"We all remember the splendid response which was given to the appeal for blood donors. This blood transfusion service is being continued in peacetime in order that, whenever and wherever transfusions are needed, blood may be available. Veterans in hospitals and other disabled veterans are given friendly attention from Red Cross workers and helped to become re-established in civil life. Other important activities include the maintenance of outpost hospitals on the fronties of Canada, hospitalization for crippled children, the maintenance of the Junior Red Cross, first aid, home nursing and disaster relief.

"I am quite sure that the workers of Canada will contribute generously to the Red Cross appeal," Mr. Mosher said.

Keel For Second Lighthouse Tender Laid At Yarrows

Yarrows Ltd. have now laid the keel of the second of four lighthouse tenders being built by the local shipyard for the French government and work is now progressing on the vessel, E. W. Izard, Yarrows general manager reported today.

The keel for the first lighthouse tender was laid Feb. 7. Although Yarrows is behind time now on construction of the tenders, this was largely due to the necessity of obtaining approval of drawings which had to be sent to New York for approval, Mr. Izard said.

The first two tenders are being built at the same time and consequently most of the work will be in duplicate and should enable a rapid date of construction to be maintained.

Immediately after these first two ships are launched, the second two will be laid down. Much of the fabrication for the latter two will be completed before the first two are launched.

Furness Line To Resume Service Here From U.K.

The Furness Line, which operated a bi-monthly service between here and the United Kingdom before the war, is now resuming the service, although it may be some time before a bi-monthly schedule can be re-established, Cecil Ridout, manager of King Bros. Ltd., shipping agents, reported today.

First ship out here on the re-inaugurated service will be the motorship Pacific Exporter which is scheduled to load general cargo at Manchester from March 12 to March 20. The Exporter will reach here via the Panama Canal and is scheduled to call at Los Angeles, San Francisco, Victoria and Vancouver. She will arrive in this port early in May.

Vessels operating on the bi-monthly service between here and the U.K. before the war were: Pacific Grove, Pacific Shipper, Pacific Trader, Pacific Exporter, Pacific Enterprise, Pacific Reliance, Pacific Ranger, Pacific President and Pacific Pioneer. Of these, only three are left afloat, the Pacific Exporter, the Pacific Enterprise and the Pacific Shipper, now operating under charter to the Royal Mail Line.

Extra C.P.R. Service Out Of Nanaimo

Extra service by Princess steamers between Vancouvr and Nanaimo will be in effect commencing Sunday, it was announced today by the C.P.R.

The extra service ship will leave Vancouver at 11 a.m., daily and will return from Nanaimo at 2.45 p.m., except Sunday, when the return trip from Nanaimo is scheduled for 6 p.m.

The new service will be in addition to regularly scheduled trips by the steamer Princess Victoria, substituting for Princess Elaine, now undergoing repairs. The Elaine is expected to return to Vancouver-Nanaimo ferry service next month.

Eastern Cadets Get Model Of City Ship

SAINT JOHN, N.B.—"You have the world to choose from and it is your duty to carry the feeling of democracy throughout the world," S. W. Crabbe, general superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway's New Brunswick district today told the Royal Canadian Rodney Sea Cadets in presenting to them a model of the company's steamship Princess Alice, at present operating between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle.

In accepting the model, L. W. Nickerson, president of the New Brunswick district, Navy League of Canada, said it was a proud moment in the lives of the Sea Cadets and they would certainly benefit by it in their training.

School's Band Will Play Sunday On Air

The Victoria Schools Band will play a half-hour radio program over the local station Sunday from 2.30 to 3 o'clock, A. Prescott, band leader, announced today.

The band, composed of 38 boys from city and Oak Bay Schools is open to all students interested, he said. Assisting artist will be Daniel G. Kelway, boy soprano.

Numbers to be played by the band include the Orpheus Overture by Offenbach, "Lost Chord" by Sullivan with Victor Keating playing trumpet solo; "Jealousy" with Stanley McArtney playing the clarinet solo and "With Sword and Lance" by Starke.

Propose $5,310 For Athletic Park

Expenditure of another $5,310 on Athletic Park will be recommended to Monday's City Council meeting, Ald. F. G. Mulliner, acting chairman of the parks committee, said following a meeting.

The sum proposed will provide for a new press box on the roof of the grandstand, a new cashier's box, better toilet facilities for both men and women, a new office for baseball officials, dressing-rooms for the umpires, larger hot-water tank for showers, sinks in each of the three concessions, and a hard-surface walk under the new section of the stands.

St. John Campaign For Funds Extended

Since the overall total in the St. John Ambulance appeal has reached only 43 per cent of the $1,000,000 objective across the Dominion, a skeleton campaign organization will carry on for several weeks to account for many of the districts which have not reported so far, national headquarters announced today.

Indications from every province are there are still many contributions to be added to the total. Some centres which hold community chest campaigns in the spring or fall have placed the St. John appeal on their lists of organizations receiving contributions.

Ontario leads in collections with $195,000 reported in a cross country round-up which brought figures for the organization's first national appeal to $431,179.

In the Maritimes, the drive is well past the half-way mark. The prairie provinces have made big advances and Manitoba has now reached 56 per cent of its objective and Alberta 44 per cent.

B.C. has climbed steadily to $28,000 or 31 per cent.

'Do What You Fear' Oak Bay Club Told

Walter C. Angus, a visiting Kiwanis Club member from Winnipeg gave sage advice to members of the Oak Bay Club at a dinner-meeting in the Goblin Hall Thursday night when he said, "a person should do the things he feared the most in order to overcome that fear."

Quoting the Bible, Mr. Angus said, "A man is what he thinketh." If a person does the things he fears, that fear will gradually be overcome, the speaker said.

The solution to the problem of worry confronting many people today is to fill the mind with so many other things that there is no time left in which to worry, Mr. Angus pointed out. Worry, he said, was most predominant during leisure time.

Walter Jeune presented Charles Mann, president of the Oak Bay Club, with a gavel and block on behalf of the Victoria Club.

Discuss Club For Canadian Scottish

The question of establishing a permanent Canadian Scottish club will be discussed at the annual meeting of the Canadian Scottish Regimental Association March 8 at the Bay Street Armories.

Due to shortage of materials and lack of existing buildings that could be reconverted for the purpose, the executive up to now has been unable to make any concrete progress toward securing a clubhouse for the regiment.

During the war the association gave continuous and valuable support to the regiment and in the present period of reorganization and postwar adjustment, the association has pledged itself to continue this support and assistance.

Officials say it is the general feeling that the association should be more than just a battalion association meeting once a year for reunion. The opinion is expressed that it should be an integral part of the regiment, an organization to which all those who have served should belong to keep their interests alive in all activities of the regiment.

All members are urged to attend the meeting by secretary W. B. Scotney who notes that the executive to be elected for 1947 will be charged with greater resibilities than ever before.

Province Asks Bids On 2 Road Projects

Tenders have been called by the provincial public work department for two projects on the Trans-Canada Highway and the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway. Tenders will close at noon March 3.

The Trans-Canada section is from Mile 146.2 to Mile 146.6, east of Boston Bar.

The Southern Trans-Provincial Highway job is on the Keremeos Kaleden section. It is 2.6 miles.

Victorian Promoted By T.C.A. To Post In West Indies

to West Indies post

W. G. Courtney, a familiar figure in B.C. transportation circles and a native of Victoria, has been appointed traffic manager, West Indies region, Trans-Canada Airlines. The announcement was made from Winnipeg by G. R. McGregor, general traffic manager of the company, who said Mr. Courtney's headquarters would be at Hamilton, Bermuda.

To "Wally" Courtney in 1937, on formation of the airline, came the distinction of being T.C.A.'s first traffic employee. He was responsible as agent at Vancouver for passenger traffic on the company's first route between Vancouver and Seattle.

When T.C.A.'s transcontinental service was inaugurated in 1939, he became traffic representative, Vancouver, and in May, 1940, opened the airline's office at Victoria as city traffic agent. He returned to Vancouver later that year in charge of traffic for the city and district. His next appointment was to Toronto in 1943 as district traffic manager. While there, he became regional traffic manager.

His association with the transportation industry began back in 1920 with the Los Angeles Steamship Co., from where he moved, after three years, to the Los Angeles Dispatch Line as district passenger agent. He next served with the Alaska Steamship Line and, as manager, with the American Express Co. in San Diego, after which he returned to Canada in 1928, representing the B.C. Co. of Alaska-Washington Airways. Successively he was agent for the Northern Pacific Railway, Northwest Airlines and Canadian Airways at Victoria until joining T.C.A.

Alexandra Graham Bell tried to persuade Mark Twain to invest $500 in his telephone invention. Instead, the author loaned the money to a friend who went bankrupt later.

Opposed To Change In Security Guard

The joint Veteran-Labor Consultative Council at a meeting Friday in the Labor Hall unanimously endorsed a motion to send a letter to the Minister of National Defence protesting the manner in which "one group of veterans are being played off against another in the matter of policing the naval dockyard."

In view of the vast amount of federal property in Esquimalt on which there are no taxes paid the Dominion government should as a contribution to the Esquimalt municipality maintain ample and efficient fire fighting facilities and staff to adequately service the area.

This followed discussion on the rumored proposal to reduce the dockyard fire fighting staff and extend the hours of the remaining employees.

Growing concern over the fate of men and women, middle age and over, who are on unemployment insurance, was expressed by members of the council. A request was made that a complete survey be made of the employment opportunities for these individuals. It was felt that unless the public was aware of the seriousness of the situation, action by the authorities would continue to be postponed.

Mayor Thanks Women For Volunteer Help

Mayor Percy George today expressed warm appreciation to the women members of the Civil Defence Guild, Post No. 5, the Junior V.O.N., the Craigflower Civil Defence Guild, and St. John's Ambulance Association for their assistance at the Health Centre while the mobile chest X-ray unit was stationed there.

The ladies worked on the records and registration of the more than 12,000 persons who were X-rayed during the five-week period. "Their untiring efforts and long hours of volunteer service did much to make the survey at the Health Centre a success," Mayor George said, in extending his thanks and the thanks of the city.

Gonzales Pollution

To stop the continued pollution of Gonzales Bay from sewage from houses constructed at low elevation near the waterfront, the parks committee is recommending to the public works committee that the buildings be connected to the city sewers at an estimated cost of $2,284, Ald. F. G. Mulliner, acting chairman, said. A man will be employed during the summer months to supervise the beach at Gonzales Bay. It was recommended that Oak Bay be asked to pay half of the costs.

Occupants Stay As House Moves

The housing shortage in Victoria has reached such a peak that 14 residents of a 50-year-old frame house now located at 2703 Douglas Street, will remain in the house without light, heat, water or plumbing for a period of approximately two weeks while it is moved to its new site on Market Street.

George Johnson, owner of the house, said that gas and oil lamps are being obtained to substitute for electricity and that efforts will be made to speed the new sewer and water connections, but it will take from 10 days to two weeks to get them all made.

Melody Lane Restaurants Ltd. have bought the lot on which the house now stands to build a drive-in restaurant and coffee shop.

Solarium Has Eight On Waiting List

At the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children, held this week, it was reported that six children were admitted to the hospital for treatment during the month of January.

Only two patients were discharged during the month. Both had received treatment for short periods.

During February six more children were admitted and there are at the present time eight on the waiting list.

Shortage of suitable help is still a problem, and with increased salaries and higher costs of supplies the Solarium's overhead will be considerably more during 1947 than it was during 1946.

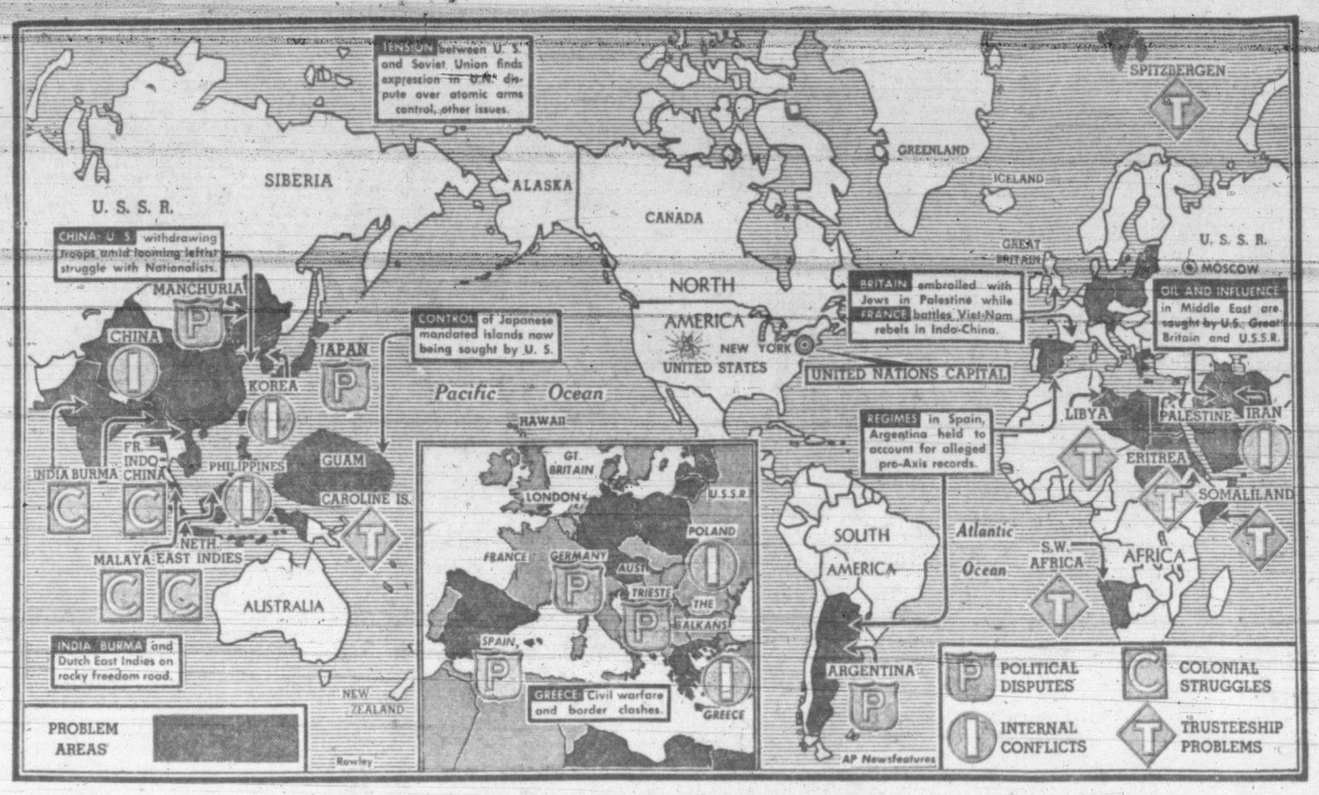
Sun Never Sets On World's Problems



By ROBERT N. COOL

On the eve of the Big Four foreign ministers' meeting at Moscow on March 10, U.S. Secretary of State Gen. George C. Marshall has said that "the world is in a very critical condition."

Since the former chief of staff presumably is given neither to creating false sensations nor to slips of the tongue, his words have been taken as intended to emphasize the multiplicity of problems which have followed the Second World War.

Considering the crossroads which civilization apparently has reached, the globe's postwar problems inevitably are numerous and grave. Some, however, are being tackled with vigor.

* * *

What might be described as the "colonial" problem seems to be resolving itself, for better or for worse, sooner than expected.

Holland made an agreement with the Indonesians on a basis of freedom by 1949, ending guerrilla war. Britain has set June 1948 as the deadline for handing India over to its inhabitants.

These moves may result in domestic disorders. The Philippines have not been entirely peaceful since the United States let them go last year. The Baltic states are restless under Russian annexation — still unrecognized by the United States. But the goal of an ordered, free world foreshadowed by the United Nations — probably has been brought a little closer.

Only in Indo-China is an old-time colonial war in progress, and even there the French have offered concessions to the Viet-Nam nationolists that would astound apostles of prewar imperialism. The fighting is fierce, but the issues seem there, and despite protestations form both sides to the contrary an armistice could be just around the corner.

Up in eastern Asia, United States troops are being withdrawn from China, as internal crises spring up apace.

* * *

In the opposite direction from the liberation moves are recent bids for trusteeships or control of new territories.

Russia wants to share control of Norway's Arctic isle of Spitzbergen, while Greenland interests American strategists, according to report.

The United States has asked for a trusteeship over the Japanese Pacific islands which were a threat before the war.

South Africa sought to annex onetime German South West Africa, and Britain is now administering the former Italian colonies in Africa.

Lately, with the Holy Land embroiled in terrorism stemming from the Jews' claims to a national home there, Great Britain has said it will refer the whole Palestine problem to the United Nations.

Uneasiness, in some quarters, over Franco Spain's early dependency on Nazi and Fascist aid has been reflected by a U.N. resolution against the Spanish dictator. Argentina's policies during and after the war, have been the cause of friction with the U.S. state department.

* * *

With plenty of difficulties everywhere bearing out Gen. Marshall's comment, the overriding problems of the world remain in the high political sphere.

The foreign ministers of Great Britain, the United States, France and the Soviet Union will make a start on a major one in Moscow: the framing of peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

What kind of a state rises in Germany will have a lot to do with world peace as well as with Europe's immediate future.

Meanwhile, at Lake Success, N.Y., the United Nations council continues its nine-month-old quest for a plan to control atomic armaments. Like the German treaty, this seems to touch on perhaps the biggest problem of all: that of achieving a workable understanding between Russia and the United States.

New School Plans Near Completion

Work on the plans for the $3,500,000 school building program in Greater Victoria is nearing completion, J. K. F. English, senior municipal inspector of schools, said today, and it is expected that all the necessary figures will be ready for presentation to the four municipal councils before the end of March.

At that time the councils will be asked to submit by-laws for the $1,750,000 which is the municipalities' share of the cost to the ratepayers.

Ernest Lee, provincial physical training supervisor, will visit the School Board next week to check all the plans for physical training facilities in the new schools.

Representatives of the provincial fire marshall will also check the plans to ensure that the exits and other fire safety measures in the new schools are adequate.

The Department of Education must give final approval to all plans after the provincial architect and other officials have passed on them.

Suggest Playground In Northern Area

The proposal that 27 city-owned lots between Ryan Street and King's Road, taking in the road allowance for Shakespeare Street in that block, be set aside for playing fields, will be made to the City Council by Ald. F. G. Mulliner, acting chairman of the parks committee.

The area will be adequate for baseball diamonds or football fields he said and stressed that a playground is badly needed in the area where there are now 30 per cent more children than there were two or three years ago.

He said the committee had also inspected Topaz Park which is set aside for park purposes but the cost of improving it would be very much higher than the area he proposes.

At Wednesday's parks committee meeting W. H. Warren, park superintendent, was instructed to report on any suitable site for a playground in the John Street area. This action was caused by the fatal accident to a child there a short time ago.

Ald. Mulliner said that while he strongly favored the setting up of more playgrounds, they were not the only answer to the problem of children playing on the streets, pointing out that he had seen youngsters on the street within half a block of Central Park. He stressed that there is a parental responsibility to see that the children use the playgrounds provided.

Fishermen After First 1947 Trout Baskets

By ROY THORSEN

Vancouver Island rivers and lakes today became legal waters for fishermen seeking trout as the curtain was raised on the 1947 open season, which continues until Nov. 14.

In local fishing tackle stores the demand for new licenses has been brisk.

A point of interest is that all anglers over 18 years of age who are residents must be equipped with a license to fish in fresh water. There is no license fee for those under that age. In regard to non-Canadian residents, however, there is a fee charged for rod artists of all ages.

The bag limit is 15 trout per day per person. They must not be taken under eight inches in length. If caught, the little ones must be released.

BASS LAKES OPEN

Another point of interest to some fishermen is that small-mouthed black bass fishing lakes, Prospect, Langford, Elk and St. Mary's (Salt Spring Island) opened for that type of fishing today also. Other lakes not mentioned have been open for bass angling since last July 1 and are still legal waters in which to take bass until March 31. However, it is generally too early for good results in this line.

Reports from lower Island centres indicate water levels are pretty high, too high, in fact, to expect smart results as yet with rod, reel and line.

From up Cowichan way comes word that the heavy rains of late and the melting snow caused by the warm weather has left the river high and dirty.

It looks like Shawigan, Kemp (Sooke), Dougan (Cobble Hill) and possibly Thetis and a few other of the smaller bodies in the country surrounding the Greater Victoria area will be the lakes where best results will be secured by early-season sportsmen.

In regard to Shawnigan, the reports state that fish have been rising for the last two weeks. It has also reached this department that fish are running in Marble Bay of Cowichan Lake.

Fly fishing is recommended for best early season results, trolling coming in later. Flies suggested are haggard, March brown, teal-and-red and Montreal.

It is suggested that those wishing to try Kemp Lake and Dougan Lake should first make sure boats are available. I understand that all boats are booked at the Cobble Hill spot.

Jack Grey, Victoria fly fisherman, hooked and landed a 10-pound spring casting into the brine off Saanichton Spit this week. He was using a bucktail fly. . . . Up at Crofton the city fire-fighting boys have been making forays seeking the grilse blueback offerings. Joe Broadwell, Jimmy Doherty and Orme Griffin all did well this week, catches ranging from 12 to 19 fish. Broadwell and Doherty got theirs on No. 3 Martin plugs and abalone spoons.

An angler's dream in the form of a handsome basket of cutthroat trout. Hundreds of rod ardents out this week-end would like to duplicate it. These beauties were taken in a lower island lake.

AS forecast in this column some months ago, the provincial government has taken steps to assure the future of racing at the Willows. Bill introduced into the B.C. Legislature this week by Attorney-General Wismer is certain to meet with the whole hearted approval of racing officials, owners and breeders. It will be remembered the protests that followed the stand taken by Oak Bay muunicipality last fall which resulted in a proposed third week of racing being called off. Shortly after the present session opened a resolution was passed jointly by the B.C. Racing Breeders' Society and the West Coast Horse Owners' and Trainers' Association calling on the government to amend the Horse Racing Act whereby the only authorization necessary for the holding of racing meetings within the province is that granted by Dominion and provincial authorities.

IT is pointed out by those favoring racing, that under present conditions too much power is placed in the hands of the municipalities, where racing has been conducted for many years. As one prominent racing man said: "Municipal councils come and go at the decree of the polls. A council friendly to racing at the moment may, in the future, be superseded by one whose members are antagonistic to the sport. For instance, two of the tracks on the mainland, Lansdowne and Brighouse, are situated within the boundaries of one municipality. What would happen to racing in the province if the council of this particular municipality ever saw fit to take action along similar lines to that taken by Oak Bay? The answer is obvious—breading and racing would be out of luck. Breeding and racing in this province is entitled to a fair measure of stability."

FROM a soccer fan comes a first class suggestion regarding future Coast League and cup games in Victoria this season. He points out that St. Andrews, crack Vancouver club, will be visiting soon and important cup fixtures will be run off, resulting in increased interest and larger crowds. He suggests that officials in charge make certain that those fans who make a habit of gathering around the goals be kept back. "These people, who should know better than stand on the line right up close to the goal posts, should be kept back along with the majority of fans," he points out. I agree with him in that better control should be kept of the crowds.

THE old baseball axiom that contented players make the best players will be thoroughly tested this year. With a majority of the 16 major league clubs not due to begin their actual spring training grind until next week, approximately 95 per cent of the 600-odd big leaguers have already signed their 1947 contracts. Of the 30-odd players still outside the fold, the biggest name and probably the most adamant holdout is Stan Musial, National League batting champion who was the big gun in the St. Louis Cardinals' drive to the world series title last fall. He has had several conferences with owner Sam Breadon, but they appear to be as far apart as ever. Reports are that Musial, who drew about $14,000 last year, is demanding $30,000.

Fivepin Tournament Holds Bowling Spot

City fivepin keglers take over the spotlight at Gibson's Bowladrome this week-end as the seventh annual Victoria fivepin handicap tournament gets under way with a record entry list shooting for team honors and the city title. Doubles and singles events will be held next week-end.

Home Cafe of the Commercial Fivepin League must rate as a definite threat for the team championship title, as a look at their season's record would indicate. Besides leading the third round of league play with nine wins in 11 starts, the Cafemen top the loop in total games won during the season with 41 to their credit. The six trundlers who represent the Cafemen all have averages of 206 or better with Andy DeGirolamo heading the list with 234.

Another pair of Commercial League units who boast worthy season marks are the Liberty Cafe and Quality Meat Market. The former is currently tied with Home Cafe for the league leadership while Quality Meat are only one game out of first place. Tyros and Ideal Barbers are deadlocked for fourth position at present, each with seven wins.

The powerful Horseshoe News five of the Financial League, who romped home in front of the first half of the schedule, are finding competition a little tougher as the second half reaches its third week of play. The Newsies are in third place in the standings, one game back of the first-place tie between Brown's Florists and Silver Spring.

In the Civil Service Fivepin League Kum Backs continue to set the pace with 47 wins in 66 starts. Gremlins trail the leaders by a single game, for second place in the standings.

TENPIN LEAGUE

Watson's Men's Wear added another game to their already long lead in Gibson's Senior Tenpin League this week as they took two of their game slate. The clothiers now boast a seven-game edge over the second-place Gyros, having won 20 of their 24 starts as compared to the service club's 14 wins. Veterans of France are third with 11 wins.

In the Commercial Tenpin League Harknett Fuel still top the standings, their 21 and 9 mark being one game better than the second-place Tillicum A unit. Duffy's are three games off the pacesetter with Sussex Cafe fourth one game behind the third-place quintette.

K.P.'s with 10 victories in 15 games hold a slim one-game margin over a triple-place tie for second in the Mixed Tenpin League. Happy Gang, Commercial Linen and Kersey's Best are the units who are close on the heels of the leaders.

Standings of the F.O.E. tenpin circuit give Aces a wide margin in the quest for the league title as they top their nearest challenger, Cherries, 40 victories to 29.

Cougars head one section of the Hudson's Bay Fivepin League while Beavers and Minks are tied for the lead in the other group. All three teams have identical marks of seven wins and two defeats. In the Rotary and Kiwanis Service Club Fivepin League, Team No. 3 is out in front of Team No. 4 with 19 wins to their credit as compared to the second place unit's 16 victories.

Dynamites still lead in the David Spencer Friday night loop with 43 victories. C.O.D. are second with 42 triumphs while Credits are third with 40 wins. Pirates head the other department store fivepin circuit with the respectable mark of 54 and 12. Pill Pushers and Lowdowns are second 12 games back of the leaders.

New Golden Era For High Salaries In Major Baseball

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Feller, the golden boy of baseball's second golden era—even as Babe Ruth was the salaried colossus of the first—leads a total of 26 big league players who will earn from $20,000 to $80,000 plus in 1947, a survey shows today.

When Bobby signed a Cleveland contract which will bring him from $80,000 to $100,000 for his mound work this year, he became the first player with a chance to better the $80,000 a year New York Yankees paid the Babe back in '30 and '31.

Although the matter of payment is incidental, it should be pointed out that the home run king got his dough in straight salary while Bob is to be paid part of his in bonuses based on home attendance. Approximately $55,000 of his money will be in straight salary.

Although Hank Greenberg's salary has never been disclosed by Pittsburgh officials, it has been learned authoritatively that it calls for a flat $75,000 contract with no bonus arrangements, as previously reported. Others who will receive more than $50,000 in 1947 include Ted Williams, who will be paid $65,000 by Boston Red Sox, and Hal Newhouser who will draw $60,000 from Detroit Tigers.

Honors for being the highest salaried club go to the American League Champion Boston Red Sox, who, according to general manager Eddie Collins, will shell out close to $500,000 this year. Besides Williams, Dave Ferriss, Tex Hughson, Rudy York, Bobby Doerr, Dom Dimaggio and Johnny Pesky are reported to be in the $20,000 class.

Trail B.C. Junior Hockey Champions

NELSON (CP)—Trail junior Smoke Eaters captured the British Columbia junior hockey championship here last night as they turned back New Westminster Cubs 6 to 4 in the fourth game of a best-of-five series.

Trail won the first two games, while the Cubs got back in the running when they took the third contest Wednesday 7 to 6.

The Smokies had a 4 to 0 lead at the end of the first period.

Legion's Stand On United Cleared Up

Victoria's red-hot soccer situation received further airing at a meeting of Canadian Legion players and officials with Ralph Cosier, manager of Victoria United, last night. Called by Louis DeCosta, manager of the Canadian Legion club, the session cleared up a lot of charges and rumors relative to the attitude of both DeCosta and Legion players regarding the intercity eleven.

Acting as chairman of the meeting, DeCosta declared that at no time had he influenced his players one way or the other regarding their playing with the United. "Every player of my club was given a free hand and the decision of which team he would play with was his alone," DeCosta said. Legion players, Cliff and Joe Robbins and George Payne confirmed DeCosta's statements.

DeCosta criticized the manner in which Cosier had approached Lou Heppenstall, former member of the Pat Bay R.A.F. club, who recently returned to Victoria and signed with the Legion, with the object of getting him transferred to the United. "I was never approached in regard to Heppenstall and think it is pretty tough to lose a player on the final day for transfers, thus being robbed of the opportunity to locate a replacement," DeCosta said. The Legion manager went on to point out that he had attempted to build a strong team for the Province Cup "which is the right and duty of any manager."

Cosier in explaining his position apologized to DeCosta for the action he had taken in regard to Happenstall and also withdrew remarks he had made charging DeCosta with influencing his players to remain with the Legion rather than play for United.

Malcolm McCaig, Legion official associated with the soccer team, answered certain criticism thrown at the Legion in recent weeks and backed up DeCosta in his stand that the team had never bucked the United and that Legion players were free to join the intercity squad at all times "What we did object to was players turning out with two clubs." McCaig said.

After considerable discussion Payne and Heppenstall both decided to sign with the United but will continue to turn out with the Legion for Victoria and District League fixtures. Cliff Robbins elected to remain with the Legion.

Sam Smith, secretary to the local commission, today announced player transfers put through yesterday, the closing day. In addition to Payne and Heppenstall, Chuck Restall of the Wests and Alan Reside of Oak Bay will be with the United. Noel Morgan returns to Oak Bay from the United while Bobby Bell leaves the United to rejoin the Wests.

Dominoes-Legion In All-Important 4th Clash Tonight

Tonight at the High School gym the fourth game of the current senior A basketball series between the Canadian Legion and the Dominoes will be on tap for cage patrons. With the veterans leading the series two games to one and the Dominoes facing elimination for the first time in their career, a terrific battle is forecast.

The veterans took the first two contests, but the Dominion champions came back with a vastly improved performance last Wednesday to stay in the running for the title and feel confident that they can repeat the dose tonight.

Starting line-ups for the two teams have not been announced, but it is expected that Alex McKeachie, coach of the veterans, will start Hank Rowe in place of Ernie Fox tonight. Rowe, who was out of action for a few weeks with an infected throat, is back in top shape as shown by his 20 point performance Wednesday. On the other hand, Dominoes will field their regular five with the possible exception that Mason may start in place of Bryant.

Two lads the Legion will have to stop tonight if they hope to annex the title are Busher Jackson, league-leading scorer, and Johnny Clark, six-foot four-inch pivotman. Between them these two sharpshooters poured 41 points through the hoop in the last game.

The preliminary at 7.30 will pit Wally Yeaman's Eaglettes against Bob Whyte's Comets in the deciding game of their best-of-three series for the girls' intermediate A crown.

Detroit In Serious Bid For Playoff Spot

For the red-hot Detroit Red Wings, the extra 10 games the National Hockey League tacked onto each team's schedule this season shaped up today as the biggest boon since the railway's linked Detroit and Indianapolis.

Right now, on the basis of the old grind of 50 games each the Wings would have "had it." With 50 games played, Detroit has 42 points, four short of the fourth and last playoff spot.

Instead, Jack Adams' boys start their closing 10 games against the Maple Leafs at Toronto tonight with a good chance of edging out either New York Rangers or Boston Bruins if they keep up their blistering pace.

The Wings, who play in two of the four games this week-end, draw the major attention because their effort to latch onto a playoff position is one of the few remaining issues to be decided before the schedule closes March 23.

The cellar-dwelling Chicago Black Hawks, eight points away from fourth, face an almost impossible obstacle in their last 11 games.

SMART RECORD

Unbeaten in five games, Detroit sports victories over Canadiens, Bruins and Chicago and ties with Rangers and Maple Leafs in the string. They tied the Leafs 3 to 3 at Detroit Wednesday night the last time out.

In the return engagement at Toronto tonight, however, they face more difficulty. Gord Howe, their brilliant 19-year-old centre, suffered a cut foot against the Leafs that required five stitches and May not be playing in the return engagement.

From Toronto, the Wings go on to Chicago for a Sunday night clash with the Hawks.

Boston, seeking to break a third-place deadlock with Rangers, play in both the other two games. The Bruins meet the Canadiens, whom they have yet to beat this season, at Montreal tonight and the Rangers at New York Sunday night.

Underdog Lesnevich Kayoes Fox In 10th

NEW YORK (AP)—Gus Lesnevich, who always has been just a "good" fighter to the fans, but never one to raise their blood pressure, woke up today to discover he not only still has his light heavyweight championship, but is the hottest thing around these parts since the invention of steam heat.

It wasn't only that old Gus tossed the betting odds and the ugly rumors of a title "deal" right out the window by stopping young Billy Fox with the big right hand in the 10th round of their title bout before 18,318 customers in Madison Square Garden last night, although even his closest friends didn't think he could do it.

It was how he did it—fighting a smart, heady, fight, weathering a storm that had him hearing the birdies at one point, and finally, taking on a strong free-wheeling youngster with the greatest knockout record in history and caving the roof in on him.

And at the end the customers who contributed to a gross gate of $102,520, roared their cheers to the rafters for the victory of the White Russian walloper from Cliffside, N.J., who was making his first title defence in this country in six years, after spending four years in the Coast Guard.

The end wasn't altogether unexpected, once Gus switched from his cagy, canny ringmanship to a changing, tearing aggressor in the eighth. Through the ninth, he beat a loud bass drum on Fox with both hands.

In the 10th a right staggered Billy. His feared fists had no more power as he waved a harmless left at Gus. Two jabs and a hook slowed him to a walk. Then a right cross tore over and Fox went down as though hit by a sledge. He was on his back, his arms outstretched, until referee Johnny Byrnes' coun t reached "four." At six he was on one knee. At eight, he reached his feet, but he was helpless, wobbling, his eyes vacant and his hands at his sides.

Gus leaped across the ring to put over the clincher. Byrnes, spotting Fox's helplessness, jumped in to stop the proceedings

APOSTOLI KAYOED

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Former middleweight champion Fred Apostoli of San Francisco met with an abrupt detour on the comeback trail Friday night as he was stopped in 1 minute, 50 seconds of the first round by Bobby Volk of Portland, Ore.

The hard-punching Volk opened a severe cut over Apostoli's left eye with a left hook and, after a medic's examination, referee Abe Roth awarded a technical knockout.

Pete Hughes Sold To Vancouver Caps

VANCOUVER (CP) — Pete Hughes, fence-busting right-fielder for the Victoria Athletics of the Western International Baseball League last year, has been bought outright by Vancouver Capilanos, Bob Brown, business manager of the team, announced Friday.

Hughes, who knocked out 30 home runs and who batted .341 in 119 games for the Athletics last summer, was brought from the Oakland Acorns of the Pacific Coast League.

$80,000 Sweepstake Swindle Disclosed

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Joe McClelland, chief special agent of the California Department of Justice, announced Friday that four men, one a member of the state capitol police force which guards the capitol grounds, were in jail on charges of criminal conspiracy and conducting a lottery in the sale of between $70,000 and $80,000 worth of sweepstakes tickets on the Santa Anita Derby March 8.

McClelland said that as far as he and his agents could learn no arrangements had been made to conduct a sweepstakes drawing nor had any money been put into reserve for $287,000 in prizes promised.

A man booked as Walter R. Doyle, 46, Hollywood, had directed the sale, the agent said. The state capitol policeman held is Durwood McCord, 30, of Sacramento. Al Nahas, 39, and Lester Johnson, 46, are the others charged.

Ticket stubbs recovered, McClelland said, indicated that between $70,000 and $80,000 was collected.

Bowling Winners Receive Awards

Victoria tenpin bowling champions who recently annexed titles at Gibson's Bowladrome were presented with their trophies at a combination banquet and smoker held at MacDonald Hall last night.

Prizes presented by Bob Watson included the Arcade Trophy, emblematic of city team supremacy, which was captured by the Commercial Linen team. Other prize winners were Art Porter and Jack Howell, doubles; Cliff Steele, net aggregate; Gordie Law, handicap aggregate, and Jim Cambrey, singles.

STAMPEDERS WIN

CALGARY (CP) — Flashing their smoothest form of the season, Calgary Stampeders ended their regular Western Canada Hockey League schedule in great style as they blanked Edmonton Flyers 8 to 0 here last night. Stamps thrilled a crowd of 5,170 as they passed and skated the northern sextette completely out of the picture with each goal being the result of a well executed play.

Name Jockeys Play It Smart By Refusing Rich Contracts

By AL COLLETTI

NEW YORK (CP)—Racing circles buzzing with reports that several leading jockeys are refraining from signing contracts to ride for the wealthy racing stables. By not binding themselves to a contract they will be in the enviable position of choosing their own mounts for the rich stake races . . . Some seasoned riders claim they can make more money free-lancing with a small stable than if working for a prominent outfit on a high salary basis. . . .

Their argument is this: When under contract they are bound to ride the employer's starter in a race. Since the large stables usually have an entry in most rich events they miss out in winning the $50,000 and $100,000 stakes when the horse they are riding is mediocre . . . but by operating under a verbal agreement with a small stable composed of ordinary horses they would be free to seek mounts on probable stake winners. Their motto: The best jockey for the best horse.

As of Feb. 1 Jockey Club records show only a handful of contracts on file. Missing are the contracts of Johnny Longden, British-born rider from Taber, Alta.; Eddie Arcaro, Basil James, Eric Guerin, Warren Wright, Conn McCreary, Johnny Gilbert, Jackie Westrope, Steve Brooks and several others.

Finance Canadian Golf Clubs Staging Open Championship

TORONTO (CP) — The top-flight golf clubs in the major Canadian cities, reluctant in the past to stage the $10,000 Canadian Open Golf championship, today greeted enthusiastically the news that the Royal Canadian Golf Association now is in a position to offer an "attractive financial proposition" to the club willing to hold the tournament.

At the 48th annual R.C.G.A. meeting here last night retiring president J. A. Fuller of Montreal announced that the House of Seagram, sponsors of the tournament, had agreed to put up all the prize money for the next four years which would enable the association to offer a better inducement to a club wishing to stage the event.

Dr. A. W. Matthews of Toronto, tournament committee chairman, stressed the importance of holding the event at courses adjacent to large cities and mentioned Montreal, Vancouver, Winnipeg and Windsor where the championship could be held successfully.

This year, it was announced, the open will be held in Ontario, probably Toronto, July 16-19, and the Canadian amateur championship over the Royal Quebec course, Quebec City, Aug. 11-16.

The 1948 open will be staged by Shaughnessy Heights Club of Vancouver, the 1948 amateur by the Ancaster Club of Hamilton, the 1949 amateur by the Riverside Club of Saint John, N.B., and the 1950 amateur by the Saskatoon club, Saskatoon. Dates are undecided.

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Vancouver Meralomas moved into the lower mainland basketball finals by defeating New Westminster Adanacs 47 to 46 and copped the intercity senior A basketball title here Friday night.

Meralomas won their best-of-five series against the New Westminster hoop crew 3 to 1.

Highlight of the game was a shot by Paul Burtwell who sank the winning basket on a foul shot with seconds to go.

Eagles Turn Back Vic High Hoopers

Victoria High School rep basketballers suffered their first defeat last night at the hands of Eagles, lower island intermediate A champs, 57 to 53. Game was a thriller all the way, but the faster and more-experienced Eagles were just a little too much for the high school lads.

Led by Gordie Ellis who rapped in four field goals, Eagles held a 17 to 10 lead at the quarter, and went on to outscore Vic High 15 to 11 at the half.

Eagles played a rousing fast game, being quick on breakaways and it wasn't until the final session that the Vic High cagers finally got on to their style. Behind 48 to 34 at the end of the third, losers, mainly through the efforts of Tommy Joyce, picked up 19 points to Eagles' nine, and almost overtook the high-flying birdmen. Four minutes from time, Joyce put Vics within two points and Matthews sank the tying counter only to have it disallowed. Browning sank the winner for Eagles two minutes from the bell and Ellis added the clincher before Castner scored Vic High's final tally.

To open the night's card, Vic High senior girls trounced Victoria Normal School, 34 to 19.

Teams and scores follow:

Eagles—Browning 5, Ellis 14, Long 14, Ranson 9, Slang 8, Rynoski 7.

Vic High—Matthews 11, Castner 14, Joyce 23, Anderson, Leung, Minnes, McKinnon 2, Ireland 3, Oakley.

Normal School—Logan 6, Jackson, Bonsall, Ballard, Holland 8, Huscroft, Islister, Coldwood 2, Davidson, Van Buskirk 3.

V.H.S. Girls — Pettigrew 22, Mason 8, Latham, Cockburn, Kennedy 4, Suffern, Giddy, Booth, Hudson, Whitten.

Australians Drop Veteran Quist From Davis Cup Squad

MELBOURNE (AP) — Adrian Quist, 34-year-old veteran, was dropped from the Australian Davis Cup team today as this tennis conscious country began preparations to bring back the international trophy the all-victorious United States team lifted last December.

Named to the four-man team which plays Canada in the only match of the American zone are John Bromwich, ace of the losing team last year; Dinny Pails, Colin Long and Geoff Brown.

C. R. Cowling, widely known referee and official, will manage the team.

At the same time, the Australian Lawn Tennis Association decided to send Mrs. Nancye Bolton, this country's outstanding woman's player, to Wimbledon for the all-England championships.

Present plans for the men's team also include a trip to Wimbledon and then the matches with Canada, probably in Montreal by Aug. 11. The Canadian-Australian winner then must play the winner of the European zone by Aug. 18 for the right to challenge the United States.

The challenge match is scheduled for Forest Hills, N.Y., Aug. 30-Sept. 1.

Groom, 12 Horses Perish In Fire

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A groom burned to death and approximately 12 thoroughbreds perished in a fire which distroyed two stables early today at the Oak Lawn race track.

The groom was tentatively identified by police as Junior Kindell, about 21. The body was found near the end of one of the stables where the blaze was believed to have started.

Oak Lawn is in the midst of its annual 30-day racing season, and approximately 700 horses were stabled in the area of the fire. Some horses were led to safety. Others broke loose and several wandered into the downtown section of Hot Springs.

Aarologist Act

Directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce went on record at a meeting Friday as being in favor of the Agrologist Act after L. H. Rawlings, chairman of a committee appointed to study the legislation, had reported the measure would be beneficial to farmers.

The chamber took the opposite view of the Sidney Board of Trade which contends the Act would prove detrimental to farmers.

The Chamber also endorsed proposed amendments to the I.C.A. Act and the Trades Union Act with regard to the settlement of industrial disputes.

Chamber Directors Protest Cut In Naval Personnel

Directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Friday joined with the Navy League in protesting against a proposed drastic cut in naval personnel at Naden and the stoppage of recruiting for the Royal Canadian Navy.

The board felt Canada should maintain an efficient Navy and was also deeply concerned with regard to the economic effects a reduction in naval personnel would have on the city. It was pointed out that the municipality reaped considerable revenue from naval personnel residing in district.

At the same time the Board deferred for further consideration a letter from A. M. M. Howard dealing with a proposed drastic cut in civilian employees at Patricia Bay airport. The letter stated such a move would result in the unemployment of some fifty men with families residing within the area of the airport.

T. G. Denny submitted the report of the Special Committee on Marchant Marine Rehabilitation which inquired into complaints that merchant seamen were not getting a fair deal for their work during the war.

He said the committee felt that some of these complaints were justified and had recommended that merchant seamen be entitled to the Veterans Land Act, Vocational Training and Veterans Insurance.

"Many of these men joined the Merchant Navy because they were medically unfit for the armed forces and felt that in doing so they were helping out in the country's war effort," he said. "I believe some assistance should be given to them."

Says Beer Halls Need Greater Scrutiny

A general tightening-up of regulations governing the operation of beer parlors in B.C. was necessary, Don C. Brown, M.L.A., Vancouver-Burrard, told the Legislature Friday afternoon during the budget debate.

A personal survey of the beer parlors in Vancouver had convinced him there should be closer scrutiny and examination when beer parlor licenses were transferred.

"They should go to law-abiding Canadians who are fully aware of their social responsibilities," he said.

He thought that operators of beer parlors should be made to adhere to the following principles:

"To co-operate with all control authorities in the enforcement of laws.

"To avoid selling to intoxicated persons or those of questionable character.

"To maintain clean, orderly establishments.

"To refrain from serving knowingly anyone under the legal age.

"To promote the principle and practice of moderation."

At the present time beer parlor licenses were passing into the hands of people who give little regard to customary business ethics. "Seemingly all they care about is to get rich quick, by hook or by crook," he said.

HALIFAX (CP) — Roger Whynott of Mahone Bay, N.S., Friday night ended 10-year reign of Len Wadsworth of Windsor, Ont., as Canadian middleweight champion by punching out a 10-round decision over the 31-year-old battler at Halifax Armories. Whynott weighed 150, Wadsworth 13[illegible]¼.

McInnes Complains Northland Of B.C. Being Neglected

Complaints the northland was not getting a fair share of provincial government services, were presented to the B.C. Legislature Friday by John McInnes, C.C.F., Fort George.

Recalling an earlier succession move in his riding, Mr. McInnes, during the budget debate, said: "I can assure you a very strong feeling remains that we are not getting the attention the area deserves."

Mr. McInnes reiterated a previous plea during the current session for completion of the road to link Prince George with Jasper, and asked for improvement of the Cariboo Highway, the only road through which at present tourists may enter the Prince George district. He said some of the same stones and sharp twists which he had noted in traveling the highway in 1910 existed today.

Concurring with the suggestion of his party leader, Opposition Leader Harold E. Winch, Thursday, Mr. McInnes said employment was one of the most important problems for B.C. governments of the future. Fearing that Britain will not be able to purchase the quantity of Canadian goods she had in the past, he suggested attention should be given the development of the province's tourist industry and secondary industries.

He also said that discrimination against Asiatics in provincial election laws should be eliminated for Asia was a great potential market, and such discrimination was contrary to British justice and ethics.

Pleasure that the government was planning to spend more money on destruction of predatory animals was expressed by Mr. McInnes, who asked for higher wages for provincial road workmen and provincial policemen and establishment of a land registry office at Prince George.

Asks Wider Policy On Cocktail Bars

Liquor reform to provide for a system similar to that in Ontario where cocktail bars are allowed in the larger cities without approval of the people by plebiscite was advocated for B.C. by Donald C. Brown, Coalition, Vancouver-Burrard, in budget speech debate in House Friday afternoon.

He was against granting of cocktail bar licenses to a few of the province's leading hotels, stating that such a course would be gross discrimination against 90 per cent of the people who "never darken the doors of these leading hotels."

B.C. must replace the present liquor system which had broken down completely, with one which would give some consideration to sane drinking, the Vancouver member asserted.

From the way things were going, consumption of liquor going up by leaps and bounds, there was a great danger that society in the province would be undermined.

"And the government should not be blamed," he said. "After all it is the people themselves who buy so much liquor and drink it, and therefore they should assume some of the responsibility."

He said even the liquor interests were worried over the excessive drinking going on in B.C. as they feared "the whole thing will backfire on them."

He said it was imperative that some system be established which would do away with drinking in offices, hotel bedrooms, automobiles which far too often resulted in over-drinking and in some cases, intoxication.

"Another thing that is not good is having to hide bottles under tables, behind furniture and in other places when respectable citizens go to a dance or an evening's enjoyment," Mr. Brown stated.

What was needed was a more open policy where enforcement of the law could be implemented without embarrassment to the public.

New Poodle Dog Cafe Will Cost $20,000

A building permit has been issued to Georgia Properties Ltd. for the complete reconstruction of the Poodle Dog Cafe in the basement of the Metropolis Hotel, to cost $20,000.

Architect for the job is T. B. McArravy of Nanaimo, and Luney Bros. Ltd. are the contractors. The new cafe will be entirely in the basement and will have a counter with 25 stools, 33 booths for diners, as well as a banquet room. Provision is made for a bakery and up-to-date kitchen facilities.

A building permit was also issued to Peter Brown to build a duplex at 1630 Oak Bay Avenue costing $8,000. Each suite in the duplex will have four rooms.

BOOKS . . . .

INSPIRING TESTIMONY

"Detour," by Lt. J. E. R. Wood

PROCEEDS OF the sale of this book are going to the Canadian Red Cross because it was on Red Cross writing paper that the manuscripts were first prepared in a prisoner-of-war camp in Germany.

The book is an inspiring testimony of man's ability to overcome the relentless monotony, danger and sorrow of life as a captive.

Lt. Wood, of the Royal Canadian Engineers, collected and edited the work of many allied soldiers who were prisoners in the notorious German camp for officers, "escape-proof" Oflag IV. They wrote their stories, yarns of adventure in combat and attempted escape and passed the long months of isolation illustrating their work.

Included in the anthology of heroism are a monologue by Lt.-Col. Cecil Merritt, V.C., who was captured at Dieppe, and the thrilling story of the famous escape of 65 officers from the camp.

What makes this book particularly notable is the complete absence of melancholy or selfish self-analysis. There is nostalgia but it is softened by whimsy.

ANOTHER WAR BOOK

"Maple Leaf Up, Maple Leaf Down" by Peter Simonds (S. J. Reginald Saunders Co.).

CAPT. PETER SIMONDS, a young signals officer and brother of one of Canada's top soldiers, has added a worthy volume to the slowly-mounting versions of Canada's land role in fighting the Second World War.

It is "Maple Leaf Up, Maple Leaf Down," a 356-page book which gets its title aptly enough from the names of routes leading up to and back from the Canadian sector of the Western Front.

Simonds' book, like Canada's war effort, is climaxed in the Western Front, but it embraces a considerably broader field. His background for his task is the intimacy that comes of having served in the forces he writes about; the 1st Canadian Army.

He deals somewhat harshly with some of its elements and actions. He claims there existed a permanent force "pressure group" of high officers, predominantly Progressive Conservative politically, who got themselves promoted rapidly early in the war when "the Liberal cabinet did not want their task made more difficult by extraneous charges of political favoritism."

Capt. Simonds contends that "mistakes were made at Dieppe and errors crept into the training and planning of the raid long before the expedition left England." One of its boomerangs was that the Germans promptly saw the need for radar, the same radar which picked out the Normandy invaders two years later.

He sometimes seems to allow his brotherly devotion for Gen. Simonds to spill over into his work. He maintains that he would have been the best choice to succeed Gen. McNaughton as army commander, compares him to Anthony Eden in looks, describes him as "one of the most polished of British commanders," and says the first division accepted his brother "with a simple faith with a touch of mysticism about it which one only finds in religious groups or in armies."

Book Notes

The 1947 edition of "How to Prepare Your Income Tax," published by Collins, has been revised to incorporate the 1946 changes in law and the many new rulings, regulations and Orders-in-Council affecting taxation.

Book of the Month selection for March is John Steinbeck's new novel, "The Wayward Bus," published by Macmillan Co.

Tax Suggestions Given Approval

Report of the Taxation Committee with regard to a questionnaire on recommendations to be submitted to the Federal Minister of Finance, was approved at a meeting of the Directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce Friday.

In the interest of encouraging production and also of retaining skilled personnel in Canada, the Board felt that a substantial reduction should be made in personnel income tax rates.

The board was not in favor of abolishing the Excess Profit Tax Act 1949 and a reduction of corporation income tax rates, unless the Dominion's economic condition justified such a move.

The board also believed that economy and efficiency in tax collection demand that income taxes be uniform and that they be collected by one central authority.

Charges Indifference Toward Christianity Throughout Canada

Rev. Walter Ross, presenting a report on church life and social action this week before the Victoria Presbytery, Presbyterian Church of Canada, meeting in spring session at St. Andrew's Church here, said that throughout Canada "we are faced with indifference and, in some quarters, hostility toward Christianity."

"The age we are living in," he said, "will go down in history, not only as destructive, but an indifferent age." He urged all ministers and leaders to warn "our people against any gambling device such as purchasing tickets for lotteries and any other form of gambling," urging special attention to home religion.

"And since the excessive use of intoxicating beverages is at all times harmful and there is a tendency on the part of the government to make liquor more easily obtainable," he proceeded, "we would recommend that our members and adherents practice the principle of total abstinence."

Rev. J. A. Munro, western superintendent of missions, whose parish extends from Fort William in the east to Victoria in the west, reported his survey of the work in the western provinces was most encouraging. He was impressed with the great interest being taken by young and old in furthering the cause of Christ, and urged the men and women of British Columbia to work for the establishment of a hostel or residence on the campus of the U.B.C. for students going through university giving them facilities for fellowship and in their preparation for the ministry.

GORGE INDUCTION

Gorge Presbyterian Church, having been raised to the status of an augmented charge, has issued a call to their minister, Rev. T. H. McAllister, who will be inducted to that charge in the near future. Rev. Peter McNabb was appointed interim moderator of the congregation to make the necessary arrangements for induction. Preparations are under way for the forthcoming visit of the moderator of the General Assembly, Rev. A. G. McLean of Winnipeg, who will visit within the bounds of our province March 16 to 23.

The standing committees were named as follows:

Missions, Rev. J. L. W. McLean, M.A.; Rev. Samuel Lundie, D.D.; S. L. McCracken. Church life and social action, Rev. R. S. Stevens, D.D.; Rev. E. G. Thompson, R. G. Creech. S.S. and Y.P.S., R. G. Creech, Rev. T. H. McAllister, S. L. McCracken. Statistics, S. L. McCracken. Budget, A. Cruickshank, Hugh Sloan, H. D. Currie. Treasurer, the clerk. Finance, A. Cruickshank, S. L. McCraken, F. E. Adolph. Ministers and students, Rev. J. L. W. McLean, Rev. Peter McNab, A. R. Christinson. Pensions, Rev. T. H. McAllister, Hugh Sloan, F. E. Adolph. Commissioners to the General Assembly to be held in Grace Church, Calgary in June: Rev. T. H. McAllister, Rev. Peter McNabb, ministers; R. G. Creech, Rev. T. T. Holway, elders; alternates, H. B. Currie and F. E. Adolph.

The fall meeting of Presbytery will be held in St. Andrew's Church here Sept. 3.

City Leads Week's Building Figures

With three large commercial building permits issued during the week, the city led the week's building figures with 26 permits valued at $115,580 being issued.

Included in these were permits for four dwellings, one duplex, a $42,000 office and warehouse building, $20,000 renovation of a cafe, and a $15,000 beauty parlor and apartment building.

In Saanich 19 permits were granted for a total value of $61,450. Eleven were for dwellings costing $51,600.

In Esquimalt three permits were issued for houses, two valued at $5,000 each and one for $6,000.

Junior Citizens Invade City Hall

A throng of Victoria High School students, made civic officials for the day, invaded the City Hall this morning to learn all about the inner workings of the civic business and the City Council.

"Mayor" Don Elliot took his place in the mayor's office beside Mayor Percy George, while the nine boys and one girl elected to the council paired off with their aldermen for approximately an hour before the council meeting opened at 11 o'clock.

John Taylor took Ald. Edward Williams' place as acting mayor and chairman of the finance committee for the day; while others substituted as follows: Ald. B. J. Gadsden, Rodney Nixon; Ald. D. D. McTavish, Baghat Singh; Ald. H. M. Diggon, Peter Salmon; Ald. J. D. Hunter, Don Smyth; Ald. F. G. Mulliner, Ron Castner; Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, Evan Oakley; Ald. Margaret D. Christie, Marylin Grant; Ald. W. L. Morgan, Tommy Joyce, and Ald. F. N. Cabeldu, Roger Ross.

Ald. Williams gave them preliminary instruction in council procedure, and Mayor George coached "Mayor" Elliot in his duties. Harry Frackson substituted for City Clerk F. M. Hunter, and John Mackie took the place of Percy Wright, assistant city clerk.

After several false starts, during which some of the "aldermen" attempted to speak their reports before making the necessary motions, they settled down to business and gave evidence of being carefully coached by the aldermen whose places they were taking.

In true aldermanic style they argued over whether a parks expenditure should go to the finance committee first; whether the water board expenditure was in the estimates, and where the money was coming from to make an addition to the aged men's home.

Junior citizens at Saanich held three-hour council meeting in the Municipal Hall before proceeding to the City Hall where a full-dress discussion is being held on amalgamation. In the morning the school children visited the fire department and municipal offices.

In Oak Bay, Pat Fleming, councillor for the day, objected to obtaining a $150,000 loan against taxes and current expenditures at the offered interest of 4 per cent. She suggested the bank be approached to gain an interest one-half per cent lower. "Reeve" Gordon Nickells, dealing with the objection by 160 Oak Bay residents to an airpark at Gordon Head, suggested a plebiscite, but his council decided such action should not be taken until further information on the question was put before the council. R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk for Oak Bay, who arranged the agenda for the "council," expressed pleasure over the way in which the junior citizens dealt with municipal problems.

AT ESQUIMALT

There was a good turnout of members of the Esquimalt Council this morning at the township's municipal hall to meet members of the high school's "Future Citizen's Day" delegation, Reeve E. J. Read presiding. The younger generation were given some instruction in the intricacies of municipal administration.

An Indian woman who had appeared before Magistrate Henry C. Dump May Eliminate Beach Garbage

An experiment in dumping cans and bottles will be tried this summer to eliminate the nuisance of having them float back on the city's beaches, Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the public works committee, said following a meeting Friday.

Evans, Coleman and Johnson have given the city permission to dump the cans and bottles in the large hole at the end of Douglas Street near the old brickyard, Ald. Hunter said, and it is estimated this hole will hold 150,000 cubic yards of material.

The tins and bottles will be segregated from other garbage at the garbage wharf, dumped in the hole and periodically covered with layers of dirt and crushed down.

He expressed hopes that this would solve one of the worst problems of litter on the beaches.

FISH TAIL

THE Girl Friend's mother sent her some loot, so I went with her to buy a suit. To the smiling salesgirl, sorta slinky lean, "I'd like to look at some Gabardine." I stood aside the retiring male. "Yes . . . that's pretty; but I want a fish-tail." "Oh . . . I'm sorry," as she sorted more clothes, "but next week, we'll have more of those." "Well . . . thank U," sed the G.F. I was holding the rail. "Now WHAT," sed I . . . "is a fish's tail?" "Oh," she replied, "furniture's YOUR racket. I want a fish-tail on the jacket."

U'LL want this Chesterfield Set . . . so hightail it down here . . . it's a burgandy wine . . . a Tub shape . . . deep pile ribbed V-lure.

"GOSH," I sed, in an appraising drivel, "your hips NOW, have quite a swivel. Whatcha trying to do, create a shiver, sumpthin' like a fish squirming up a river?" "OH . . . U don't understand, haven't U seen . . . they're all the style shown in McCall's Magazine. Sort of old fashioned, gay and naughty, the jacket droops gracefully o'er the boty."

NAUGHTY PINE dinette suite . . . buffet with 3 shelves, Welsh style, and there is also a matching corner cupboard . . . the chair . . . well, U can hardly pick 'em up.

SO—into another shop we went. Here again, I was the only gent. NOW, I knew which was gabardine, because of all those others I'd seen. "How's about this?" as I shoved the rail. "It's powder blue, but it's lost its tail." The salesgirl pretended I was just TOO funny, suggesting something in a light shade of honey. And held it up in front of her chest, "this," she sed, "I like it best." Then she looked at me with quite a bead, so of course, I quickly agreed.

SO WILL YOU . . . about this 3 Pc. bed daveno set . . . practically covered in this floral sailcloth (duck) we've bin bleating about. Hurry . . . coz only 2 suites.

"Y-E-S . . . it's quite smart," the G.F. replied, but that she liked it I knew she plied, but that she liked it, I knew she street, I sed, "all over town. I'm NOT gonna beat. When I want a suit, I just go in a store, buy the darn thing, don't look any more. But I 'spose U gals LIKE this store-hopping, and dignify it by the name of shopping."

COMPARISON PROVES that a mohair suite (Pure Mohair), at our prices U cannot beat.

"WELL . . . Dear . . . U just run along," she knowingly sed, "run along back and peddle a bed." Later she came here, a new hat on her hed. "DO YOU know what that salesgirl sed?" I finally settled on a lovely green, the prettiest of ALL that I have seen. It's not gabardine, but a fine wool, they're fixing the skirt, it's a little 2 full. When I gave my name she started to "leff," are YOU, by any chance, known as the G.F.? Gosh, those pomes, what a lot of posh-pish. "YOU'VE no more privacy than a gold fish. And she took my jacket, waved its tail, thanked me . . . wondered . . . and RANG UP THE SALE."

HUMBER BROTHERS furniture in the heaney warehouse opp. courthouse on View St.—below Gov't

I ONCE hooked a fish up a Cowichan River . . . never had to weigh him . . . had his own scales . . . (ouch).

Believe Message Found By Byrd One Left By Shackleton

NEW YORK (CP)—Snatches of poetry from Robert Browning's "Prospice" provided an intriguing link today between a 30-year-old message found in Antarctic wastes and an Irish-born explorer who may have written the lines sometime before his death in 1922.

Found in a corked copper tube corroded by exposure to Polar elements, the message was believed to have been written by Sir Ernest Shackleton, remembered warmly by friends and colleagues here as a "Lion among explorers" in the First World War era.

All who knew Sir Ernest will agree that circumstances pointed to the "strong presumption" that the Antarctic adventurer wrote the message which Rear-Admiral Richard Cruzen of the United States navy's Antarctic Expedition discovered last week at McMurdo Sound near a camp site used by Capt. Robert Scott in 1910-12.

"From what I knew of Sir Ernest, I would say the writing almost certainly was his," Vilhjamur Stefansson, noted Canadian-born Arctic explorer and historian, told the Canadian Press Friday night.

He agreed with Kathleen Shackleton, youngest of Sir Ernest's eight sisters, who said in Toronto it would be "too much coincidence" for the message to have been written by anyone else. The explorer often quoted Browning and wore a locket with the inscription "Prospice."

Sir Ernest died on his third Antarctic expedition in 1922. His former associates hope the mystery may be solved when the latest Antarctic expedition returns to the United States, permitting a comparison between the message and writings known to exist here.

Ending War Controls On U.S. Lumber

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — All maining on lumber production major U.S. wartime controls rewill end March 31, F. H. Brundage, western log and lumber administrator of the Office of Temporary Controls and the Civilian Production Administration, said Friday.

To be canceled are regulations requiring that 50 per cent of the lumber output be in housing sizes and grades and that 50 per cent of construction plywood be channelled into housing, Brundage said.

He added that a new regulation will be issued requiring that no more than 85 per cent of shop lumber be channelled into millwork and cut stock plants. He said he expected this to have little effect on the industry.

Black Market Probe Widening In U.S.

CHICAGO (AP)—Testimony in the black market sugar stamp ring investigation before a federal grand jury has increased the apparent scope of the racket to most of the eastern half of the United States, a government prosecutor said today.

Nathan M. Cohen, assistant U.S. district attorney, said the probe "is still turning up new information" and predicted the grand jury would vote additional indictments next week. Forty-four indictments have already been returned.

Cohen said that estimates of the amount of sugar diverted into illegal channels, based on the number of stolen and bogus sugar stamps sold have been revised to 7,000,000 pounds, a figure he called "conservative."

Lunan Appeal Dismissed

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Court of Appeal Friday dismissed the appeal of David Gordon Lunan of Ottawa against his conviction in Ottawa and sentence of five years' imprisonment on a charge of conspiring to communicate secret information to the Russian-sponsored espionage ring in Canada. Judge A. C. McDougall sentenced Lunan in Ottawa last Nov. 18.

Franco-British Alliance Brings Varied International Reactions

LONDON (Reuter)—Announcement of the conclusion of a British-French alliance on the eve of the Moscow conference is likely to produce a number of interesting international reactions.

Russian reaction to the prospect of an immediate Anglo-French alliance will almost certainly be suspicious until hard proof is provided that the Alliance is not aimed at ganging up against Russia and is not an incidental step in the formation of a "western bloc" policy.

The future attitude of the French Communist Party in general, and of the four French Communist ministers of the French government in particular, will be watched as a key both to French domestic political developments and to the immediate orientation of French foreign policy within the framework of great power politics.

On both sides of the Channel public opinion will be anxious to know whether the Alliance will be followed by any immediate practical results in the economic field, which, by co-ordination of resources, will mutually simplify everyday economic problems in France and Britain.

The reaction of the United States to the final link in a series of three-cornered alliances among the three European members of the Big Four will be awaited with interest. Will American public opinion regard it as a tightening of Anglo-French-Soviet bonds or as a new consolidation of the two powers who have publicly acknowledged their special position as middlemen between the immense and often conflicting forces of the United States and Russia?

Striking Maritime Mine Union Chiefs Plan Relief Pay

GLACE BAY, N.S. (CP)—Officials of District 26 United Mine Workers (C.C.L.) examined their plans of strike relief today as the walkout of 13,000 Maritime coal miners drearily entered its third week.

The miners, striking for a $1.40 a day wage boost from the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, employer of 80 per cent of Maritime coal labor, had spent their first payless Friday. A number, however, who worked right up to the strike deadline two weeks ago received a one-day cheque.

Union leaders were informed here that U.M.W. international headquarters had pledged $50,000 to District 26 for relief purposes. Adam Scott, district secretary-treasurer who conferred with President John L. Lewis in Washington Friday, said the international leader had pledged continuing support.

A selective service official said in nearby Sydney that more than 400 persons had filed claims for unemployment insurance benefits as a result of the coal strike. The majority of these were employees of the Dosco-owned Sydney and Louisburg Railway.

In mining towns and surrounding areas throughout Nova Scotia storekepers reported a decided drop in spending, and some clerks have been laid off here.

Meanwhile, registration and plans for payment of strike relief were nearing completion. It was believed payments for needy cases would begin March 8.

Provincial Mines Minister Currie announced in Ottawa Friday that arrangements had been completed for a supply of United States coal to cope with any fuel emergency in Nova Scotia. The province now was assured of enough coal for at least 90 days, and the supply would be continued from the U.S. after that date.

May Turn Artillery On Big Lava Flow

ROME (Reuter)—Use of bombers and artillery to alter the course of the lava pouring down the side of Mount Etna, 10,758-foot volcano in eastern Sicily, from four craters was being considered today.

Authorities again declared a state of emergency in villages on its sides, the Rome newspaper Messaggero reported today.

Aged Man Rescued

SAUGUS, Mass. (AP) — Seventy-three-year-old Edward Berrigan was under treatment today for shock and exposure after being trapped 24 hours in the rungs of a rocking chair. He said he fell Friday entangling his feet in the rocker, and couldn't disengage himself. His plight was discovered by a neighbor.

New Anti-Red League

MONTREAL (CP) — Mayor Archambault Desy of Montreal North announced Friday night that a "League for Anti-Communist Action" had been formed and that he had been named president. He said the aims of the league would be "to fight by legal means all subversive doctrines in all spheres in which they are active and which endanger religion and social, economic and political life."

Real Estate Break

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharp drop in the volume of home sales in the United States and a "definite trend to lower prices" for the first time in eight years were reported today by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Union Leaders Reply To Statement Of P.E.I. Premier

By Canadian Press

Spokesmen for some Quebec and Maritime trade unions were on record today with replies of "ridiculous" and "unconstitutional" to the statement of Premier Jones of Prince Edward Island, who said Thursday that "if we get our backs up we may pass a law outlawing all unions in this province."

Premier Jones said that in proportion, more veterans had returned to the land in Prince Edward Island than in any other province. "You must forget about this eight-hour stuff," he told the Charlottetown branch of the Canadian Legion. "That is nonsense. Let Nova Scotia have it; not here. If we get our backs up we may pass a law outlawing all unions in this province and we will not be defeated at the polls for doing it."

J. E. Budoin, president of the Quebec Federation of Labor, said that "if such legislation is ever passed it will be unconstitutional." The Quebec federation is affiliated with the Trades and Labor Congress and the A.F.L.

Madeleine Parent, organizer for the United Textile Workers (A.F.L.) in Quebec said "Premier Jones expressed the desires and immediate interests of a dangerous section of Canadian industrialists."

CALLS FOR CODE

"If he meant what he said, it is all the more reason why Parliament should enact a labor code without delay which will facilitate democratic collective bargaining and ensure stable industrial relations," said George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.).

Silby Barrett, Canadian director of District 50, United Mine Workers (C.C.L.), maintained that workers have a right to organize into unions. "I never thought anyone in the Maritime would make a statement like that," he said. "That sort of thing is a throwback to 50 years ago."

Freeman Jenkins, president of District 26, United Mine Workers at Glace Bay, commented that the premier's statement was on its face "ridiculous" and that it "typified an uninformed anti-union sentiment which is a threat to the welfare of Canadian workers."

Consider the longer term view
The conservative longer term view of the present investment position of well-seasoned and carefully selected Preferred and Common stocks is reassuring. Apart from current dividends, there are some stocks which should have reasonable prospects of capital appreciation.
This capital appreciation should come from increased earnings derived from expanding domestic business and in some cases from expected development of export business.

Stock Market Opens Month Feebly

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market today began the new month with an exceptionally lamb-like demeanor and most leaders were inclined to drift slightly lower.

Dome Mines, with a gain of ¼, led Canadian issues in the final hour. Distillers Seagram was up ⅛ and Canadian Pacific was unchanged.

Propose 26 Changes In Pension Act

Mayor Percy George today received a copy of 26 proposed amendments to the Superannuation Act which will be considered by the special committee of the Union of B.C. Municipalities Friday morning at a meeting in the mayor's office.

The committee has ben working for more than two years on the amendments to the act and there is a possibility they will go before this year's session of the Legislature if the committee approves them.

The committee meeting was originally scheduled for Wednesday but it has been postponed, Mayor George explained, because the Vancouver members are meeting their own civic employees that day to discuss wages and working conditions.

Favor Deportation Of B.C. Japanese

Two resolutions to the affect that "the Japanese problem is unsolved, and that this association still feels that all Japanese should be removed from British Columbia, and that they should be sent to Japan," and "this association is not in favor of granting the franchise to Asiatics," were carried unanimously by members of the executive of the Saanich Progressive Conservative Association at a recent meeting. Copies of the resolutions are being sent to Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P.; the Hon. John Bracken, M.P., Dominion headquarters of the association and to all Progressive Conservative members of the provincial legislature.

RANGOON (Reuter)—Epidemics of plague, cholera and smallpox in many districts of central and upper Burma have caused 1,043 deaths, it was stated here today.

Slight Decline In City Land Sales

Sale of city-owned lands for the first two months of 1947 is showing a slight downward trend from 1946, figures issued today by Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the lands, zoning and housing committee, show.

For the first two months of this year 94 parcels of land have been sold for a total of $40,777, while in the same period in 1946 98 parcels were sold for $55,436.

For February there were 62 parcels sold for $27,057, compared with 60 sold last year for $37,437.

Ald. Dewar explained that the majority of the valuable city-owned land on the sale list had now been disposed of, leaving the larger portion of it unimproved lands, on which considerable work will have to be done to instal services before it is saleable.

Cash receipts for the first two months of 1947 were $35,272, compared with $41,138 for the same period in 1946.

Portland Executive Invites Victoria's Girls' Drill Team

Invitation to the Victoria Girls' Drill Team to attend the annual Portland, Ore., Rose Festival was again extended by L. W. Mallet, executive manager of the festival, who attended a meeting of the Tourist Trade Group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, held in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium Friday.

Mr. Mallet was guest at the meeting, which featured the first showing in Canada of a colored movie film, with sound effects, depicting events in the 1946 Portland Rose Festival, as well as other films.

Praising the performance of the Girls' Drill Team, Mr. Mallet said the people of Portland were anxious to have the girls participate in their festival this year.

"The outstanding performance they gave during last year's festival brought only the highest praise," he said. "It is an organization which you are quite justified to be proud of."

Mr. Mallet said if the girls attended the event they would be featured under black light — a most striking and effective method of staging a performance of this kind.

Stating it was his first visit to Victoria, the American visitor said he was impressed by the city and hoped to be able to attend the May 24 celebrations.

He said Victoria could expect a strong contingent of visitors from Portland, as well as the Portland Queen and her court.

Victorians may also have the opportunity, he said, of seeing Portland's famed firemen.

Victoria Veteran Of Ladysmith Siege At Annual Party

Alex Linn, janitor of the Victoria unit of the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans in Canada, Wharf and Broughton Streets, and one of the Imperial veterans in the fight with the Boers at the relief of Ladysmith, was present last night when the club staged a social and dance to celebrate the 47th anniversary of the famous chapter in the South African War.

Mr. Linn was with the 42nd Highlanders of the Black Watch Regiment and can tell many a story of the grim seige that left British soldiers so weak from lack of food.

The program was staged in the third-floor auditorium which boasts a spring-cushioned floor, known as a "floating floor." It included a lengthy floor show which attracted hundreds of members, young and old, and their wives and sweethearts.

Contributors to the program were: Tome Crabbe, baritone solos; Hughie Banks, black-face comedy; George Durham, comedy and variety acts; Bill Holmes, concertina solos; C. Smith, violin solos; Bill Harness, feats of magic; George Farmer, tenor solos; Jimmy MacFarlane, female impersonations; Tom Obee, comedian; Roy and Ronnie, specialty floor dancing numbers, and acrobatic and specialty dances by Miss Florence Clough's pupils.

Following the show dancing was enjoyed until midnight, Cecil Boulter's band providing the music.

T. R. Wheadon was master-of-ceremonies for the night and Mr. Obee was in charge of arrangement of the program.

One Woman's Day

HANSARD HIGHLIGHTS

I TOOK A FEW MOMENTS the other day to glance over a copy of Hansard, the official publication of the House of Commons, Ottawa.

And found it interesting, as usual, not only because of the subjects under discussion which are of vital moment to Canada, but because of the sidelights which it throws on our parliamentary processes.

A few days ago, in our own local Legislature, the Speaker called the attention of members to the rule which forbids the reading of speeches.

He reminded them that speeches are supposed to be given with the aid of notes only—on the grounds that such practice lends itself more readily to debate.

PROSY, PROLIXITY

APART FROM THE question of whether it is right or wrong, I agree with the rule. For most read speeches are apt to be rather dull and prosy.

As to debate, I don't know whether it is because we are becoming more polite in our politics, but in our British Columbia House I miss the fiery exchanges, the sally and riposte, which lightened the sessions in the old days when the late John Oliver and W. J. Bowser used to lock horns in debate.

Shakespeare might well have been thinking of them when he wrote the lines:

"Hear him debate of commonwealth affairs,
You would say it hath been all in all his study."

Even in the federal House, many of the speeches are apt to develop into dull monologues, although occasionally there are interruptions to punctuate prosy prolixity.

PRAIRIE EXCHANGE

TAKE THE EXCHANGE which occurred between three prairie members the other day, as recorded in Hansard. Concerned in it were J. O. Probe, Regina City; A. L. Smith, Calgary West, and J. A. Ross, Souris, Man.

Mr. Probe was speaking to the Militia Act, and charged the Calgary West member with seeking more money for national defence in the Alberta district. Whereupon the following ensued:

Mr. ROSS: He did not say that at all.

Mr. SMITH: I never said that, anyway.

Mr. PROBE: The record speaks for itself. I regret I was thrown off my train of thought by the old red herring. . .

Mr. SMITH: You are not only easily led; you are silly.

Mr. PROBE: I resent the implication that I am silly. There cannot be two of us in the same house at the same time. I suggest that the hon. member withdraw that implication.

CHIDED BY SPEAKER

AFTER A LITTLE MORE of that, the Speaker intervened and askd the Calgary West M.P. to modify the language he used in reference to Mr. Probe, who had the floor. Hansard goes on:

Mr. SMITH: Very well, sir. I shall be very happy to modify it. May I just say that the hon. gentleman has no judgment. I will put it that way.

Mr. PROBE: I thank the hon. member for his kind statement. Since it comes from the hon. member for Calgary West in that form I think I can give it its proper interpretation.

Mr. SMITH: Clever.

All of which contributed little to the subject under discussion—nor, in my opinion, did it add much to the political stature of those involved. But such is democracy!

Primroses, Polyanthus, Auriculas In New Colors

During the past ten years, several members of the Primula family have become very popular among amateur gardeners here.

In early April, to cater to the demand, garden stores and nurseries are displaying huge colorful displays of primroses, polyanthus and auriculas, in many new and fascinating colors which make us want to get them planted right away in the garden.

Planted with proper care and in the right soil and conditions, primroses will last for many years with little attention or care. There are several good reasons why gardeners are growing more and more primroses in their gardens. The fact that they are so easy to grow and need such little care and attention is undoubtedly the most important one. Our climate is ideal for the culture of all types and sorts of primroses. The equable temperature, with which we are so favored by Dame Nature is just what they need. The cool summer nights and the lack of severe winter weather make life quite easy for the primrose family. They like the climate, the temperate rains and the filtered sunshine which we get here.

PROPER LOCATION

When planting primroses or polyanthus it is wise to take care to give them the location and the conditions under which they will thrive and permit the clumps to increase in size from year to year without much further care or attention and without need of disturbance.

The plants will provide a fine display and grow with remarkable rapidity if this is done when they are first set out.

The location may be selected from a place right underneath deciduous trees, in the open but shaded by trees or shaded by a house or other building. They give a very poor show if they are planted under resinous conifer evergreens. They seem to be poisoned somewhat by such trees and a location under them should be avoided.

One point to observe is that they always do much better if they are well sheltered from any wind as well as from the direct sun.

WANT RICH SOIL

The soil in which the primrose family will grow best is one that is very rich. It should be made from equal parts of coarse sand, leaf mold, compost, and good garden soil. This soil may be neutral or slightly acid, but it is absolutely necessary to be sandy and porous, to enable the plant's many fine roots to go deeply into the soil to obtain a sufficient water supply whenever needed.

PLANTING

Plants may safely be transplanted now or set out while in full flower. When doing so, it should be remembered that their root structure is composed of many hundreds of hair-like pieces, no two of which ever touch each other while growing in the soil.

When plants are purchased, the roots are generally squeezed into a ball of soil and wrapped in paper. When the paper is removed before planting, the soil ball should be inspected. It will generally need to be thoroughly loosened by soaking at least a day before setting out. When planting, take care that the thickened stem parts at the crown are set at soil level and only the hair roots covered with soil. When primroses are accidentally set too deeply the little roots become suffocated and die. The plant then has to produce a practically entire new set of roots before good growth can continue. Of course, it is practically impossible to spread the roots so that they do not touch each other, but the results are well worth the trouble of using as much care as possible in giving the roots all the room and breathing space possible.

PLANT FOOD

The primrose family will all respond satisfactorily to small and frequent applications of a good commercial plant food. These blends which contain even minute quantities of the rarer mineral elements as well as the big three (nitrogen, phosphorous and potash) are most effective.

PESTS AND DISEASES

Primroses rarely suffer from any diseases. Occasionally a few aphis are found on them, but these may quite easily be destroyed, when noticed, with any good rotenone spray. There is only one really bad pest that attacks primroses. It is to be found right now in the form of a large fat white grub at the base of the plant, feeding on the roots. This grub is the only pest that really needs to be prevented. It is actually the grub of the strawberry weevil beetle, and has escaped from the strawberry fields and is now quite a problem in the flower garden.

One hundred per cent success has been reported by many primrose growers here with the use of Volck. This material is sold in stores as a shrub and garden spray. It is mixed 50:1 with water and used to "puddle" in the plants when they are set out. This prevents the grub infestation and incidentally seems to act in some way as a plant food to the plant.

LYSOL

Another "puddling" material that is claimed to be equally effective is lysol. It is mixed at the rate of one teaspoon to a gallon of water and used in the same way as volck.

The beetle is grey-brown, six-legged and is found feeding on plant leaves in early summer. Some gardeners use the Go-west weevil bait for control while others spray the leaves of the plant with Rotenone.

Bad Coughs Yield Quickly To This Home Mixture

Surprisingly Quick Relief. No Cooking. Saves Money.

Here's a medicine for coughs due to colds, that you mix in your own kitchen. It's so easy to prepare that anyone can do it. Once tried, you'll never again be without it in your home.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. No trouble at all. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, put it into a 16 oz. bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes 16 ounces—a family supply—of excellent cough medicine. It's thrifty, too—about four times as much for your money. And children take it willingly, because it tastes so good.

This home mixture takes right hold of a cough in a way that really satisfies. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Eases the soreness, and lets you rest at night.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable agent for soothing throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

CECIL SOLLY

On March 6 Cecil Solly will greet his Pacific Northwest radio listeners for the 8,000th time as he steps before a Seattle microphone for one of his daily 15-minute gardening programs.

Mr. Solly has been broadcasting continuously for 18 years in addition to his weekly articles which appear in the Victoria Times. He has a total of 17 programs a week reaching audiences of more than a half million in British Columbia, Washington and Oregon.

Mr. Solly never prepares or uses a written script. His tremendous knowledge of gardening and his ad-lib ability is so well known among Northwest that a special arrangement allows him to appear on an ad-lib basis, and he is not required to submit prepared scripts.

Mr. Solly is an accomplished public speaker who makes an average of eight appearances a month before men's and women's garden clubs and service clubs on personal speaking tours. On these visits, usually arranged by horticultural groups within city areas, he discusses topical gardening of current interest.

To handle his fan mail of more than 30,000 pieces annually, Mr. Solly maintains a staff of four in his Seattle office and personally answers 3,500 letters a year.

During the war, Solly's broadcasts were devoted almost exclusively to "Gardening for Food" and this outstanding series of broadcasts won for him and his sponsor the "National Victory Garden Award" for three successive years.

Radio Personalities

By FLORENCE LARINDE

Bob Hope is again the undisputed king of America's radio performers.

The fellow with the big smile, dimpled chin and the seven-league boots has moved into first place in thhe most recent Hooper poll of the nation's radio listeners.

On the latest survey Hope had more than 33,000,000 people listening to him—some 3,000,000 more than any other program in the country. Next in line for radio's top spot was Fibber McGee and Molly with some 30,000,000 listeners.

Hope's rating of 33.2 (a new high for the year) was a sensational surge. This year he started slowly. He was in second, third and once in fifth spot. Then his programs started to pick up again. In January's first week he jumped from third to first in a tie with Fibber McGee and Molly—and then he jumped three more points to take undisputed leadership.

During the war years, when Hope was flitting about the country to play before millions of servicemen and when he was flying overseas to entertain virtually on the frontlines, he held first place in all radio polls. When the war was over he came back to civilian audiences and for months he has had a difficult time reconverting his program.

The choice by Toscanini of soprano Johanne Moreland, Toronto, for a role in his only operatic broadcast of last year climaxed 15 years of voice study. Born in Hamilton, Ont, Johanne was taught by her mother, a Bachelor of Music, and won her first gold medal when she was seven. At 20 a Juilliard scholarship took Johanne to New York. While studying there she auditioned for Toscanini and was picked to sing in his air presentation of La Traviata. Twice guest soloist with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, Johanne is continuing her studies in New York.

Jimmy Carroll rose in three short seasons from a singer in the chorus on the "Star Theatre" program to featured tenor on the Family Hour. It started in an emergency, Carroll subbing for James Melton when the tenor was seized with laryngitis a few hours before air time. Carroll filled the role with signal success.

After that, he was asked to take over for another tenor favorite, Morton Downey, while the latter left his own program to go overseas on tour. The next shoes he filled, artistically speaking, were those of Frank Parker and Dick Brown. By this time a sponsor who knew a good thing when he heard one, created a program of his own for the young tenor, and "Jimmy Carroll Sings" went on the air for an extended run.

Jimmy was born the son of a singing teacher. His father wanted him to become a teacher, Jimmy preferred the piano. However, at twelve he joined the local church choir and his career as a singer began.

When comic Jack Carson was invited to guest on the Songs for Sinatra program recently, listeners were somewhat surprised to hear also on the show Jack's radio nephew Tugwell, played by Dave Willock. Dave's part was only a small one and could have been left out entirely, as Jack for the most part sang a few songs and engaged in some banter with songstress Jane Powell. But Dave went along by virtue of a recent stipulation by the comic that Willock must be a party to any radio contract he sings. It is not publicity or business reasons. Jack made this agreement to show his gratitude for the man who gave him his start in vaudeville 16 years ago.

For years Dave and Jack toured the variety halls of the country as a team. Then they were billed as Willock and Carson. Later they left vaudeville to become movie house emcees. In the 1940s, Jack started in radio and promptly asked his old pal to rejoin him in a comedy act. They have been together ever since.

Van Johnson, who made one of his infrequent radio appearances on the Eddie Canto Show, recently is seldom heard as a singer, but during the lean years of struggling for a picture career, the energetic young man appeared in a series of successful Broadway musicals. As a chorus man in a show called "New Faces" he both sang and danced. In 1940 he appeared in the New York musical "To Many Girls," and later understudied dancer Gene Kelly, who was playing the lead in "Pal Joey."

Van smilingly says that had not the motion picture studios seen possibilities in him, he might well be appearing as a song and dance man today.

"Or maybe," he grins, "I'd be back helping my dad in his real estate business as I did for quite some time after leaving school."

Almost everyone knows that Hoagy Carmichael is the composer of the great hit "Stardust," but few realize that he has written 27 other top favorites. Hoagy disclosed this fact in an appearance recently on Radio Views program. The Hoosier tunesmith even surprised Ona Munson and Maury Webster, interviewing him, when he revealed that he had written in all a total of 78 songs. Asked which one he liked best, Hoagy commented: "That's a hard question to answer—I like some of the tunes for one reason—some for another."

Not Sufficient Sugar To Stem Scarcity End Of Controls Would Create, Investigation Reveals

By S. BURTON HEALTH

NEW YORK — There is no source in the world from which the United States could get enough additional sugar to avert shortages and enormously high prices, if rationing and price control are taken off now.

It would be possible, theoretically, for us to denounce the pooling arrangements that make us buying agent for 27 nations, and take all the sugar from Cuba, Haiti and the Dominican Republic. This, again theoretically, would add almost 3,000,000 tons to the supply available for Americans — which would give industrial users the equivalent of their 1941 quotas and add about 20 pounds to the allowance of every household consumer.

There are two bars to this. First, our contract with Cuba is on behalf of the 27-nation pool, and not merely ourselves; second, if the pool were broken up, other nations would be forced to go into the Cuban market and bid against us at auction for sugar, which would send the price out of sight.

The shortage of dollars exchange among Old World nations has been suggested as a reason why such devastating bidding would not take place. Experts point to the experience of Peru in contradiction:

Peru in 1946 provided 47,000 tons of sugar to this country under a prewar long-term contract taken over by the U.S. government. She has other sugar. Some nations not in the pool bid against one another for that excess and ran the price up—even though neither this country, Great Britain nor Canada competed—to $15.80 a hundred pounds. Add $1 for freight, 99c for duty, 53.5c for processing tax, five cents for insurance, 37 cents for the jobber and $1 for the retailer, and that sugar would have had to retail in New York for 20 cents a pound, unless prevented by price ceilings.

REAL WORLD SHORTAGE

This, say experts, gives only a faint idea what might happen to prices if, in hope of getting more sugar for our tables, we dropped the international pool arrangement and plunged the nations of the world into a race for the short supply in which all but the wealthy would lose out.

There is great unanimity among those who know the sugar business that the world sugar shortage is very real. Willett & Gray, Inc., whose figures have been authority in the industry for 71 years, estimate the world crop that will be eaten during 1947 at 31,351,275 short tons contrasted with 33,642,949 available for 1941.

But much of this crop is not available to the American-Western European world. Approximately two-thirds of the total is used by countries of origin or their neighbors or is locked up in the Russian-bloc area.

Last year, of an estimated world total of more than 31,000,000 tons, less than 11,000,000 were handled by the Joint Food Board. These had to serve this country and Canada. Great Britain, France and her African colonies, Norway, Finland, Belgium and the Netherlands. Switzerland, Spain, Portugal, Unrra, and the Anglo-American zones in Germany (which were confined to the Reich's own production).

It is estimated that increased production in Europe and in Cuba will make about 1,400,000 additional tons available to the pool this year. Eire—and India, which used to be the world's biggest sugar grower and self-sufficient—both have asked for new allotments this year.

Congressman August H. Anderson of Minnesota, chairman of a subcommittee of the House Committee on Agriculture, thinks that we ought to keep all of this additional supply ourselves, and let the other 26 nations in the pool get along with last year's quotas.

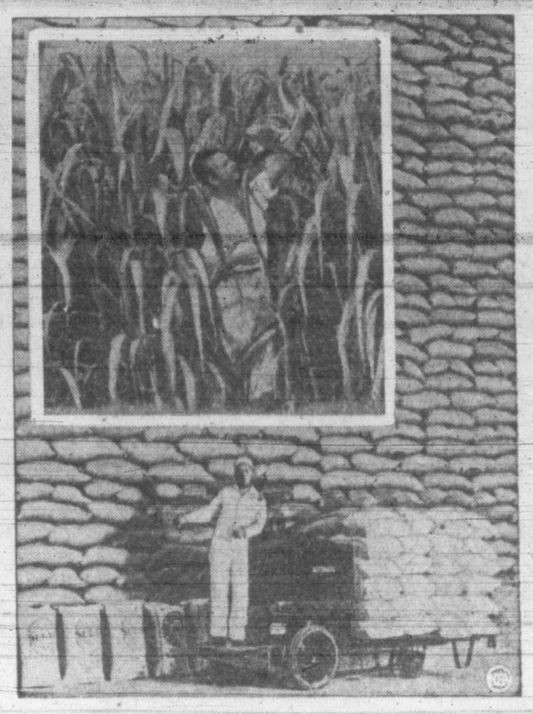
In evaluating this suggestion, those familiar with the situation point out that most of the sugar handled by the pool, aside from Cuba's, belongs to the countries that use it. They could and would keep that sugar even if the pool were broken up.

In 1946 the United States took 53 per cent of Cuba's exportable supply and divided the rest with Great Britain, Canada, France, and other pool members. Britain does get the available supply from Haiti—23,000 tons last year—and Britain and Canada divided the Dominican Republic's 443,000 tons. Finland took Brazil's 7,000 tons.

The large supplies of sugar that frequently are reported as lying on docks or departing for Europe are parts of the allocations to those countries from the supply that we "own" only as agent.

Before the emergency, we had Cuba on a quota system. Our law (which is up for another extension, or revision, this year) limited Cuba to supplying 28.6 per cent of our market. On that basis, during the nine-year period preceding 1941 we took from her an average of 1,680,000 tons—almost 500,000 tons less that she provided for us last year, and almost 2,000,000 tons less than Andersen suggests we take from her this year.

Unless Cuba can get some firm assurance that we will continue to buy in such quantities, abandoning our traditional quota limitations, realists do not see how she can afford to alienate the rest of the sugar-buying world by depriving them for our benefit.



Cuba's sugar cane, growing high in the canefields (inset), makes a monstrous pile of sugar (like the one in backgroup) that would add almost 3,000,000 tons to the U.S. supply—if they took it all. But U.S. contract with Cuba is in behalf of the 27-nation pool.

Robert Connell's Nature Talks

Plant Eyes Taking Their First Glimpse Of World

We associate buds with spring because in their opening they present us with the first tokens of that season. Actually of course they belong to summer for it is then they are formed in readiness for the coming year. Consequently buds of trees and shrubs are often very conspicuous in the winter because they are then without the concealment of leaves.

The Ontario Department of Lands and Forests issues a publication on the "Forest Trees and more commonly planted Foreign Trees" of that province. In addition to excellent descriptions for the general reader there are photographs of leaves and particularly of winter twigs showing the buds at that season. This presents a very useful means of identification when foliage is gone and particularly when the question is one of a young tree or a shrub.

ROADSIDE THICKET

Now in our Victoria February many of the trees and shrubs are showing not only awakened buds but even displayed contents, and to the nature-lover a ramble by a roadside thicket or through the wild shrubberies of ocean spray, mock orange, salmonberry, crabapple, and cascara will find much of interest in this unfolding of new life.

We are very prone to think of trees and shrubs and herbs as being more or less static things in spite of what the changing seasons so obviously present to our senses. Each plant, large or small, is a living community and each bud is an individual life. It is for that reason that we can graft buds and root cuttings. The buds of a potato are called "eyes" and I sometimes play with the fancy that all these multitudinous buds that are opening everywhere are plant eyes taking their first glimpse of the world they are to beautify.

Because of their early wakening and the uncertainties of winter and early spring weather the buds are fitted out in various ways for their protection. They are very commonly clothed with scales and these may in turn be enveloped in a gummy secretion. The hazel has half a dozen or so scales and so too have the very different salmonberry and snowberry.

The cascara faces the winter with tightly-folded leaflets, each strongly ribbed and looking as if cut out of brown cloth. At their bases are tiny balls of similar color and texture: these are the flower-buds. Red in various shades is very common in these early buds and the effect is often very pretty as in the scales of the flowering currant as they expand, the silvery green edged with rosy red. It is believed that the various shades of red act like scales, hairs, and gum as a protection, but against too much sunlight when night temperatures might injure the delicate tissues within.

EASILY OVERLOOKED

Flower-buds are often very small but none the less beautiful when examined. We very easily overlook them after the first novelty of spring is over. The flower-buds of the wild crabapple occur in clusters and are often touched with red. In our wild roses the characteristic red color is perhaps at its richest in the half-opened bud, and this is equally true of the salmonberry buds which will soon be opening.

The fawn-lily or dog's-tooth violet, or Erythronium as botanists call it, derives the second of these names from the resemblance of its bulbs to a dog's "canines": the specific name of the British species puts this in Latin: dens-canis. In our common species, Erythronium oregonum, the drooping flower-buds are not unlike dog's teeth, but then the color of our flower is creamy white whereas the British one is purplish.

Prague, Called Wonderland City By Its Amazing Comeback

By ROSS MUNRO

PRAGUE (CP)—This capital of Czechoslovakia has become the wonderland city of eastern Europe. It has been liberated less than two years, yet its comeback almost approaches that of Brussels, the leader in western Europe.

To travel from stricken Warsaw, with its ruins, its privations, its hunger, fear and uncertainties, to bustling, vital Prague provides a remarkably sharp contrast.

This city itself luckily came out of the war practically undamaged. Even the famous series of ancient bridges over the Vltava River, which flows through ague, was not blown.

CZECHS WELL FED

Now traffic floods through this fresh, alive city; electric and neon lights flare late into the night in the downtown districts; the stores are attractive and are getting more goods every day from home production and from imports; the Czechs all look well fed; they seem to be the happiest people in eastern Europe, where the scourge of war has left such long-lasting suffering.

Here, there is confidence, hope and energetic drive. I saw Prague first 10 months ago when it was only beginning to get on its feet. On my return this time the improvement was spectacular.

In the restaurants you now can eat extremely well, at prices lower than Paris or Brussels. Ordinary householders, while they still have to cope with ration cards, say they receive sufficient meat, eggs, river fish, vegetables, bread and milk. There is no dire food scarcity.

TEXTILES, SHOES SHORT

The Czechs complain, however, of textiles and shoe shortages, but their own factories are stepping up production to meet demand.

The big hotels provide some of the best accomodation and service in Europe and to come from the battered Polonia Hotel, the only remaining big hotel in Warsaw, to the Ambassador Hotel in Prague is somewhat like being elevated from a dock-side flophouse to the uptown Ritz.

Scores of movies are open, with Russian films as well as British, American and French, but the sophisticated Czechs are inclined to ridicule the Soviet films for their simplification of plot.

USE ALL DAYLIGHT

One of the most industrious peoples in Europe, the Czechs even radically adjust their working hours to use all the daylight they can to best effect. You find businesses, banks and stores opening at 7.30 or 8 a.m. and closing at 4 p.m. as darkness settles down.

In Prague, you can safely make an appointment, even with a government official, at 8 a.m. and find your man ready to do business when you arrive.

Weeds Grow To Death On Prairies

SASKATOON (CP) — One of the scourges of prairie farm lands is near extermination.

Dr. T. K. Pavlychenko, head of the plant ecology laboratory of the University of Saskatchewan, says the advent of selective weed-killers is momentous enough to be compared with the discovery of electricity.

The two herbicides—Sinox and 2.4-D—go at the job in different ways but they both give the boon of weed control which precludes pulverizing of the soil. Previously, control of weeds meant constant cultivation which broke the soil down and led to wind erosion—the "creeping death of the plains."

MAN'S CHIEF PROBLEM

"Weed control has been man's chief problem in the realm of land cultivation and he has always waged an unequal struggle against weeds," Dr. Pavlychenko said. "But the turning point in that struggle has been reached with the discovery of chemicals such as Sinox and 2.4-D."

Sinox, which has a toxic effect on Saskatchewan's worst weeds, mustard, stinkweed and Russian thistle, is a coal tar derivative. Its effectiveness was displayed in a test which showed a yield of 33.86 bushels of wheat per acre on a field tested with the chemical, beside an unchecked field which yields 17.78 bushels per acre. A flax plot's yield increased 129.5 per cent when treated.

The other chemical, 2.4-D, is in effect a plant growth regulator. Under its influence weeds grow to death. Its best yield is in control of annual and perennial weeds with tap root systems such as dandelions, Canada thistle and leafy splurge.

USE UP WATER

However, plants "growing to death" use a lot of water which cuts down supply to the growing crop.

Dr. J. L. Doughty, of the Dominion Soils Research Committee, believes these chemicals will be used extensively as the means of killing both annual and perennial weeds on fallow land.

Remnants Of Legion Of Pioneers Who Helped Build B.C. Pass Time In Basement

From right to left, Joe Donaghue, "Fiddler Bob" Cossar and G. Smethurst, having a game of checkers in the Citizens' Recreational Room.

By HUMPHRY DAVY

Go to the Westholme Hotel on Government Street, step down a flight of stairs, turn to your left and you'll walk into one of the most unique places in Victoria.

You'll find yourself in a dim-lit basement room, the favorite meeting place of oldtimers—remnants of a legion of pioneers who once played an active part in the development of the province and the nation.

The place known to some Victorians as the Citizens' Recreational Room is the only shelter where oldtimers struggling on meagre pensions can spend a few hours every day playing cards or chatting with old friends.

There are no plush carpets in this room, no gilted frames or draped windows. There is no sun that shines through any window.

When I first visited the shelter, I was impressed by the shabbiness of the room, the hard tile floor, musty bookshelves and the plain furniture in use. The walls were bare except for one small picture half hidden from the eye in the corner of the room, while half the floor space was used for storage of hotel equipment.

SLEEPY ATMOSPHERE

There was a sleepy atmosphere to the place which was catching, and I felt like yawning every few minutes. Time seemed to stand still here and one was possessed with a feeling of being miles away from anywhere; of having lost contact with the bustle and hustle of everyday life.

Seated around plain wooden tables were groups of grey-haired men playing games under the dull-yellow glow of light bulbs. A few sat reading, others dosed over papers, and some just sat deep in thought.

Everyone of those oldtimers had a story to tell. They came from every walk of life. Some were coal miners, prospectors, lumbermen, farmers, laborers, clerks, and some had been rich and wealthy. But strangely, they knew little of each other's life. Few asked questions.

Sitting at the head of the room was "Mac" McEwan, who supervises the premises for the Community Chest. Mac is a jack-of-all-trades and spends many of his hours tinkering with the room's radio which is always breaking down.

Mac said he didn't know what the men would do if they didn't have the place to meet, as there was no other place in Victoria where they could go.

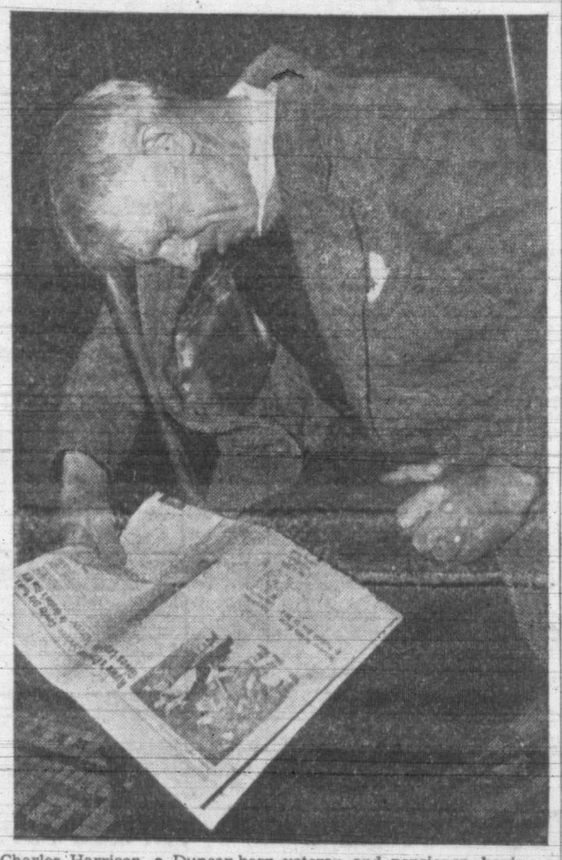
"There are not many here today as many of them are at the Legislature listening to the speeches," he explained. "In the summer you'll find many of them sitting on park benches, but its a little too chilly for that now."

"Mac" said with a few exceptions most of the men were over 65 years and pensioners. "They come down here every day to chat and to have a hand at cards or checkers," he said.

STARTED BY DEAN QUAINTON

Bill refreshed my memory by recalling that the Citizens' Recreation Room was inaugurated by the late Dean C. S. Quainton of Christ Church Cathedral and a group of civic-minded citizens who were anxious to keep unemployed young men off the streets during the early thirties.

But as times improved the young fellows moved out and were gradually replaced by pensioners and men who through some incapacity were unable to work. Churches of all denominations later took over the responsibility of maintaining the rooms, until it was finally taken over by the Community Chest.



Charles Harrison, a Duncan-born veteran and pensioner, having a quiet snooze in the Citizens' Recreational Room, Government Street.

"What the men like about this place is that they are at liberty to say what they like. But I won't stand for any cursing," "Mac" said.

Sitting watching a group playinig cards was a dark gypsy looking individual wearing earrings.

Bob said he was a Pole whom the men had nicknamed Churchill" because his name was too hard to pronounce.

Later I met "Fiddler Bob" as he is called by the oldtimers. Bob Cossar, a 76-year-old coal miner, got his name because of his ability to play the fiddle. Everyone in the room vouched there was no one in Victoria who could handle the string instrument like Bob.

WENT TO KLONDIKE

Another interesting individual was Dan Smith. Dan is 70, but he looks more like 50, and he still holds down a job. He was a prospector and took part in some of the famous gold rushes at the turn of the century.

Dan says prospecting is not an easy game and was only made for men born with hardy constitutions and capable of standing the rigors of the climate.

"I spent 15 years in the Klondike," he related, "I enjoyed every moment of it. I also prospected as far north as the Arctic Circle and pretty well throughout the Yukon."

Present in the room were many coal miners who had been brought to Canada from Britain to work in the Island's coal fields. One of these was Jimmy Lee, a kindly Scotsman wearing a heavy moustache who sat reading a magazine.

Miners of Jimmy's type are fast disappearing, and if you take his word for it there are no coal miners today.

"There are no coal miners nowadays," he instructed me. "There are mine workers but coal miners disappeared when the machines came along and changed everything."

It was evident that Jimmy was a tradesman who belonged to another generation when most of the labor depended on the individual's craft and skill.

According to the oldtimer a man was left very much to himself in the mines and the amount of money he made depended on what he could produce.

"In those days we could cuss at our foremen and get away with it," he said. "We did everything by hand, even to putting up the props ourselves."

HEALTHY JOB

Jimmy disagreed with popular opinion that coal mining was an unhealthy job and was puzzled at the attitude some had towards working in mines.

"There's nothing injurious about working in mines," he said. "I knew of a butcher and a stone mason who improved their health by working in coal pits in Scotland.'

Well, Jimmy should know. He's 71 and still healthy.

The oldtimer traveled quite a bit. He even worked in Mexico. He recommends young fellows to do a little globe trotting as a means of educating themselves and broadening their outlook on things.

As I moved to leave, I couldn't help overhearing two old fellows talking about a friend who had just died.

"I see Jimmy N—— is dead," said a grey-haired man.

"'E was a strong lad, but he didn't last long," was the reply.

"What was his age?"

"The papers says 67, but I'd say he was more like 87."

I turned around and I saw the oldtimer had a tear in his eye.

Seek Kin Of Children Lost In World Conflict

Miss Lavina Johnson (right), and Mrs. Duncan Campbell at Canadian Red Cross Inquiry Bureau at national headquarters in Toronto check the first batch of names of 3,968 lost children from Germany, whose parents are missing and for whom no relatives have been located.

The Canadian Red Cross Inquiry Service has undertaken the difficult task of establishing contact between these children and any possible relatives in Canada. Canadians who had relatives with children in the European war zones from whom they have not heard should contact the Red Cross at National Headquarters, 95 Wellesley Street, Toronto, to see if the names of the children are on the list.

This project is one of the many peacetime activities of the Canadian Red Cross for which $5,000,000 is sought from the people of Canada in the national drive, opening March 3.

Largest group of the first list of lost children received comprises 1,788 non-Jewish Polish children, and the next largest group consists of 1,088 Jewish Polish children. In the group are 296 recorded as "stateless." There are 12 Americans on the list, five English, as well as representatives from 19 other countries.
